REBELS GATHER IN ALABAMA TO BEAT TRUMAN

Move To Take South Out of Democratic Column First Time in 70 Years

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

BIRMINGHAM Ala. July 17 —Rebellious southern Democrats mapped a challenge to the Truman-Barkley ticket in 15 states today on the issue of "racial integrity of each race" and this section's laws on racial matters. A statement of principles, brought to the packed meeting hall by the states rights resolutions committee, took defiant exception to the civil rights bill in the Democratic platform.

By The Associated Press

BIRMINGHAM, Ala July 17 —Dixie Democrats here for the purpose of taking the solid south out of the party ranks this fall studied campaign plans today at what they termed a grass roots meeting.

Start of the general session was delayed 45 minutes (until 9:45 a. m. EST) as leaders conferred on platform and organization. The reason for the anti-Truman meeting was passage of a strong civil rights plank earlier this week by the Democratic convention at Philadelphia.

Those here for the states rights meeting planned to challenge the Truman-Barkley ticket in 15 states, including the President's home grounds in Missouri. Just how they would do that was not decided in all cases.

Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas is rumored as the probable choice for president — if this meeting nominates a man for that office— arrived this morning and joined the council of higher strategy in the Tutwiler hotel.

Wallace Pickets

Pickets bearing pro-Wallace signs appeared outside the auditorium just before the meeting began. They bore placards reading "Win with Wallace" and "Down with Lynching."

Police Commissioner Eugene (Bull) Conner, a leader of the anti-Truman movement, ordered the pickets to remain 50 feet apart to conform with city laws.

The first big rebel yell went up as the Mississippi delegation filed into the arena. They bore state and confederate flags.

The frank purpose of this meeting is the defeat of Mr. Truman. An anti-Truman slate of elections will seek a place on the ballot in the president's home state of Missouri.

Other states in which the challenge will be made include the deep south which has not turned its back on any Democratic presidential candidate since 1876. These are Alabama, Mississippi, S. Carolina, Arkansas, Georgia and Louisiana.

Other States

Still others, normally Democratic with room to spare in which campaigns, are planned are Texas, Senator Alben Barkley's home state of Kentucky, Tennessee, Florida, N. Carolina, Virginia, Oklahoma and Maryland.

In the latter state however the attorney general said last night there was no chance for qualification of electors at this late date.

The meeting was called by Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi, who led his delegation out of the Democratic convention Wednesday night. Wright and his delegates arrived late last night, coming here direct from the national convention.

Former Gov. Frank J. Dixon of Alabama was selected as temporary meeting chairman.

Dixon, Wright, Gessner T. McCorvey of Mobile, Ala., and W. W. Wright of Mississippi formed one of the numerous huddles in the early morning hours. McCorvey is chairman of the Alabama Democratic committee.

States Rights Leaders

All are leaders of the states rights campaign committee, formed at Jackson, Miss. last May 10.

In an opening oratory Senator James Eastland (D Miss.) said last night the nominee of the meeting would carry more states than Mr. Truman.

Dixon, outlining possible strategy of the meeting, said these two courses are open:

1. To nominate southern candidates for president and vice president.

2. To leave southern presidential electors unpledged, as Alabama has done with its 11—already elected and all pledged specifically not to vote for Mr. Truman.

MARION COUPLE HEAD NATIONAL MEETINGS

MRS. C. G. SMITH

DR. C. G. SMITH

Presiding for the one-hundredth anniversary convention of the National Eclectic Medical association held earlier this week at French Lick, Ind. was Dr. C. G. Smith of Marion. Mrs. Smith presided for the meeting of the women's auxiliary of the national association held in connection with the men's meetings.

At the close of the session Dr. Smith turned his duties over to Dr. C. R. Flannery of New Castle, Pa., who will head the organization next year. Several hundred persons attended the meetings and heard talks by speakers recognized nationally in their profession.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith reside at 857 South Prospect street. Mrs. Smith, who was in California joined Dr. Smith at French Lick for the three-day meeting July 13-15, and returned home with him.

Arabs and Jews Cease Fighting in Jerusalem

By The Associated Press

CAIRO July 17— Arabs and Jews ceased firing in Jerusalem today after a wild night of fighting, but the war went on elsewhere despite hopes a new truce was near for all Palestine.

Arab Legion officers in Jerusalem said Jews died by the hundred in the Holy City fighting during the night. The battle came to a halt a second before the United Nations deadline at 4 a. m. (9 p. m. Friday eastern standard time).

In the north holdout Arab forces continued fighting inside Nazareth. The Israelis announced its capture yesterday.

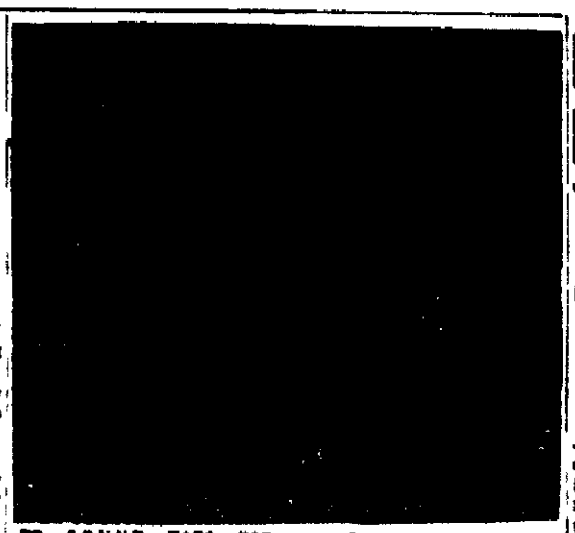
A Syrian communique said two Jewish planes raided Damascus, without causing material damage.

Count Folke Bernadotte, the UN mediator, was headed back for Palestine hopeful of bringing the war to an end.

Bernadotte, acting on the authority of the United Nations security council has fixed Sunday night as the deadline for a truce. Security council members were reported studying possible steps to enforce the order if the Arabs reject it. The Jews have announced willingness to accept a truce if the Arabs will do so.

Guns and mortars pounded ceaselessly throughout the night in Jerusalem like stormy waves on a rocky coast but for hours after the cease-fire deadline, not a shot was heard. The Jews opened the attack last night from their positions in the modern city, dispatches from the old city said. They plastered the Arab-held walled old city with more than 500 shells before dawn. The Arabs replied with artillery. Dispatches from Jerusalem gave no estimate of Arab casualties.

The Jewish shells struck fire from the tops of holy buildings along the Via Dolorosa—The Way of Sorrows—along which Christ carried His cross.



TO SOUND TAPS FOR PERSHING. First Sergeant Charley Wycoff (above) of Carswell Air Force Base at Ft. Worth, Texas, was alerted to fly to Washington, D. C., so that he may sound taps for General of the Armies John J. Pershing. The general once said, "I went as one but Charley Wycoff to sound taps for me." A vast military funeral procession is planned for the 87-year-old war hero on Monday. Burial will be in Arlington National Cemetery. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

FLEET OF 60 B-29'S ON WAY TO GERMANY

Planes Stop Off in Britain for Three to Five Weeks of Training.

By The United Press

SCAMPTON AIR BASE, Eng., July 17—The American bombers came back to their wartime bases in England today. A fleet of Superfortresses landed here for three to five weeks of exercises before going on to Germany.

Inbound from the United States, the trail blazers of the first U. S. operational bombers stationed in the United Kingdom since Gen. Carl A. Spaatz' massive armada was dismantled after the war landed at 6:35 a. m. (12:35 a. m. EST).

In their wake roared the remainder of two complete bomb groups of 60 fully manned Superfortresses, bringing an aerial army of about 1,500 men to England.

First To Land

The first to land at nearby Marham were four bombers of the 307th group from MacDill field, Tampa, Fla. The other 56 were expected tomorrow. The lead B-29 of the 28 group from Rapid City, S. D., circled Scampton once and came in for a perfect landing at 8:26 a. m. (1:26 a. m. EST). Most of the remainder were due during the day.

The giant B-29's came down at the Scampton, Marham and Waddington air bases, clustered around the town of Lincoln in east-central England some 110 miles north of London and just inland from the North Sea.

A spokesman for the British air ministry, which through the Royal Air Force was host to the Americans, said the Superforts would be here three to five weeks, and then proceed to Germany.

30 Already There

Thirty Superforts already were on duty with the U. S. air force in Germany. The mass flight of the two new groups came at a time when the crisis over the Soviet blockade of Berlin was acute, and the Anglo-American air forces were straining every facility to supply the city by air.

Indicative of urgency in the current operation, an air ministry spokesman said the Scampton base started only yesterday to prepare for visitors from America.

However, official U. S. statement on the flight said it was "part of the normal long range training program" and had been planned for months.

When they all are here, the men will number about 750 at Scampton, 300 at Marham and 300 at Waddington.

After the Superforts will come 10 four-engined C-54 transports with maintenance personnel and supplies.

LeMay In Command

The Superforts were the twenty-eighth group from the Rapid City, S. D., air force base, and the 307th group from MacDill field, Tampa, Fla. The other 30

AUTO OUTPUT GAINS IN WEEK

Production Up To 85,000 from 70,000 for Previous 7-Day Period.

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT, July 17—All the nation's auto assembly lines operated this week and output went up substantially.

New car assemblies totaled about 85,000 compared with the previous week's 70,800. Trucks and coach output reached 20,060 against 23,760 in the shortened independence day week.

Car makers, looking for greatly increased production in the weeks ahead, found encouragement in this week's settlement of the strike in the steel industry's own coal mines. Not so encouraging was the threat of a Ford strike and continuing work stoppages in several vital automotive supplier plants.

Truck Output Cut

These stoppages, growing out of wage disputes, already have affected truck production. They probably will hold the car industry's July output to below the projected half million units. At the same time most auto industry sources are confident the July-to-December output will equal the 2,500,000 vehicles built in the United States in the year's first half.

This week's heaviest producer, of course, was Chevrolet. The biggest money maker of the General Motors group turned out 18,122 cars and 7,611 trucks. Ford, during the same period, turned out 10,981 of its new 1949 models.

Ford, scheduling 2,240 units a day in its various plants, expects to be turning out 3,000 a day by mid-August. The Ford unfilled order backlog, which took a huge jump with the introduction of the new 1949 model a few weeks ago, now is at the highest point in the company's history.

Meanwhile Plymouth, third largest of the car builders, is pushing its average closer to the 2,000-a-day level. It topped 9,000 this week.

That much-talked-about battle between Chevrolet and Ford for first place in production and sales still seems to be a long way off. Both have steadily growing unfilled order lists calling for more cars than they are likely to build this year or next.

Facilities Increased

Both have vastly enlarged production facilities, probably at least 50 per cent greater than they were before the war. If they could be put to capacity use an interesting production battle would result. But both will continue to be handicapped by a shortage of cold rolled steel.

Most industry authorities who care to make any long range guesses say the steel situation will be worse in 1949 than it has been so far this year. Against this some of the more realistic among the industry chroniclers assert last year's output of close to 6,000,000 vehicles and this year's indicated 5,000,000 are far above pre-War average.

Nash, which undoubtedly will make more cars this year than in any previous year, is nearing the end of its 1948 model run. Factory retooling and other change-overs will get under way early next month. The 1949 models, described by Nash officials as "entirely new," are to go into production in September.

They probably will carry higher price tags, too.

Heat Wave Claims Life Of Logan County Man

By International News Service

BELLEFONTAINE, O., May 17—The current heat wave claimed a Logan county victim today.

Leora Edgar Moore, 73-year-old retired New York Central railroad employe, died on the roof of a chicken house he was shingling at his home at Degraff.

Relatives said Moore was overcome by the heat and died before he could reach the ground.

OHIOAN FALLS ASLEEP, CAR STRIKES POLES

HEBRON, O., July 17—An automobile broke off two utility poles here early today cutting off electric light and telephone service in this village of 800 population.

The state highway patrol station here reported that a car driven by Harrison L. Estis of Columbus smashed into an Ohio Power Co. pole in the center of the village. The pole with three transformers on top, was severed at the base.

The car then broke off a telephone pole and crashed into a large tree. The tree remained standing.

The highway patrol quoted Estis as saying he must have fallen asleep at the wheel. Estis suffered only slight injuries, a lacerated finger and several bruises.

NO SETTLEMENT SEEN IN OHIO OIL STRIKE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 17—More than 1,200 CIO oil workers today entered the 10th day of their strike for higher pay from Standard Oil of Ohio, and no progress has been made toward settlement of the dispute, company Vice President E. B. McConnell said.

The union continued picketing five Sohio units affected but no disturbances have occurred. Shutdown are refineries here and at Toledo with a capacity of 60,000 barrels daily, an eastern division pipeline running from Hagerstown, Ind., through Lima, O., to Toledo, and the Canfield Oil plant and Lithograph Can factory here.

McConnell said negotiations broke off with the company offering 17.5 cents more an hour than workers received a year ago, including an eight-cent hourly cost of living increase granted late in 1947. The union is asking 26 cents more hourly than received a year ago.

HIGHWAY PATROL CHECKS AUTO TRAFFIC NEAR LIMA

Three units from the Marion sub-station of the state highway patrol took part in two traffic checks held near Lima Friday. Two drivers were arrested and 114 warnings to have defective vehicles repaired were issued during a two-hour check just south of Lima on route No. 25 in a morning session. A total of 523 cars were examined.

An afternoon check between the hours of 1:30 and 4:30 on highway No. 65 just north of Lima resulted in 198 written warnings for drivers to have their cars repaired. During this check 901 cars were examined.

HERBERT CONSIDERS SPECIAL SESSION

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 17—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert is considering a call for a special session of the Ohio legislature for more liberal old age pensions, it was learned today.

A decision on whether to issue the call may be reached this afternoon at the executive mansion, where the governor is entertaining Republican members of the house and senate and Republican nominees for the new legislature.

John R. Jones, the governor's secretary, said he could make no comment. The governor could not be reached for a statement.

It was understood, however, that considerable pressure has been exerted for a session and that as of this time a call for the legislators to reconvene is probable.

U.S. BEGINS FINAL PERSHING TRIBUTE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 17—The nation begins paying final homage to general of the armies John J. Pershing today in the chapel of Walter Reed hospital, where the World War I hero spent the last 10 years of his life.

The aged warrior's body will be viewed by relatives, close friends and long-time patients at the army medical center.

The chapel rites, marking the first of three days of solemn observances in the nation's capital for the famed American expeditionary forces leader, were not open to the general public.

Pershing died at the hospital early Thursday morning following a long illness. He was 87.

At noon (EST) Sunday, the remains will be removed to the rotunda of the capitol, where for 24 hours they will lie in state, guarded by selected troops of the army's third infantry regiment.

On Monday, Pershing's body will be carried to Arlington National cemetery for services and burial. Final rites will be conducted by Major General Luther D. Miller, chief of Army chaplains and the Very Rev. John W. Suter, dean of the Washington (Protestant Episcopal) cathedral.

HERSHEY TO HEAD PEACE TIME DRAFT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 17—President Truman today appointed Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey director of selective service. He will supervise the registration of youths between 19 and 26 under the new peacetime draft act.

General Hershey was head of selective service during the last war. He has since been head of the office of selective service records in the army department.

The White House said the President will issue early next week an executive order dealing with registration.

Many details are yet to be announced, including the order in which the youths will be called.

5 Columbus Persons Saved by Fishermen

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 17—Two unidentified fishermen early today rescued five persons from drowning in Buckeye lake after their outboard motorboat capsized. They were in the water one hour before the fishermen found them.

Those rescued were Virginia Wedemeyer, 42; William Ebert, 22; Hazel Cook, 30; Virginia Farley, 29, and Vivian Wyse, 38, all of Columbus.

FIRST POLIO VICTIM

GROUP TO STUDY AIR REGULATIONS

Charles Whysall Heads Chamber of Commerce Program.

Charles C. Whysall, veteran Marion airplane pilot, was named to head a sub-committee to study proposed air regulations by J. B. Bray, chairman of the aviation committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, at the Chamber's air committee meeting Friday noon at Hotel Harding.

Assisting Mr. Whysall in his study of proposed air regulations will be committeemen William Reichenstein, H. H. Clark, E. A. Freeman, and Bruce Tibbals. The regulation proposals have been prepared by the Ohio aviation board and have been submitted to the Marion Chamber of Commerce, the aviation industry city and state officials for study before public hearings on the regulations are held at a future date to be announced.

Satisfactory progress on the city airport plans was reported to the committee by E. O. Uncapher, city safety service director.

MARINES TO GUARD CONSULATE GENERAL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 17—The Navy has ordered a squad of 12 marines under a non-commissioned officer into Palestine to guard the Consulate General at Jerusalem, the State department announced today.

The department reported that the action was taken at its request and with the approval of the President.

The marines are being detached from the American Naval forces in the Mediterranean. They are the first American servicemen to be sent into the Holy Land for guard duty since the trouble started there. Civilian guards have been used for the Consulate General up to now.

YOUTH DIES IN CHAIR FOR OHIO SLAYING

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 17—Elmer Curnutt, 21, youngest of a nephew-uncle team convicted of the robbery-murder of a Cincinnati cafe owner, died in the Ohio penitentiary electric chair at 8:08 last night.

Less than seven hours after his baptism in the penitentiary chapel, the Oatas, Ky., transient paid the supreme penalty for his part in the Dec. 2 slaying of 60-year-old Thomas Wilson.

Curnutt, who was received into the Seventh Day Adventist church at noon yesterday, entered the death chamber at 8:03, accompanied by Rev. B. P. Gurnet, a Columbus minister.

Curnutt walked calmly to the chair. As he waited for guards to adjust the metal straps Curnutt muttered the prayers he had learned a few hours before from the prison chaplain.

As the black death mask was drawn over his head Curnutt spoke in a strong clear voice.

"The Lord is my Shepherd. I shall not want."

At 8:05 the first charge of electricity entered Curnutt's body. Three minutes later he was pronounced dead.

A brother-in-law of Curnutt, Robert R. Smith of Dayton, witnessed the execution in behalf of Curnutt's family.

The man's body has been claimed by Smith and is being taken to Dayton prior to eventual burial in Curnutt's home town.

The youth's uncle, Ova Curnutt, 46, recently was granted an indefinite stay of execution by the Ohio supreme court after the nephew made a formal statement exonerating the older man from any part in the murder.

MORROW CO-OP GETS REA LOAN OF $55,000

The Morrow Rural Electric Cooperative of Mt. Gilead has been granted a $55,000 loan by the REA, The Associated Press reported today from Washington.

The loan was one of four granted yesterday to electric cooperatives in Ohio.

Others included the North Central Electric Cooperative, of Attica, $290,000; Tuscarawas-Coshocton Electric Cooperative of Coshocton, $315,000, and Guernsey-Muskingum Electric Cooperative of New Concord, $145,000.

The Morrow loan is a supplementary loan to cover cost of a project now under way to increase the capacity of the present system, Howard Clapper, of Mt. Gilead, manager of the cooperative, said today.

The project calls for the installation of 33,000 volt transmission lines and construction of several substations for which the REA had granted an initial $85,000 loan.

2 FIRE CALLS RECEIVED

Firemen from the West Center street station and Central station today responded to two calls, neither of which resulted in loss. West Center street station firemen were called to the J. M. Edington residence at 358 Milburn avenue at 10:07 a. m. when flames from a burning rubbish pile set fire to an outbuilding, and Central station firemen extinguished a grass fire at 8:55 a. m. just south of Homer street and Indiana. The first blaze was out upon arrival of firemen. The second originated from sparks from the exhaust of a truck owned by the Baldauf and Schlientz Construction Co.

MANY VISITORS AT "JAIL ON WHEELS"

4,500 View Exhibit Here on First Day.

An estimated 4,500 persons viewed the Jail on Wheels exhibit on display at the courthouse corner yesterday while attendance early today gave promise of an even larger total of visitors.

The $15,000 Jail on Wheels houses a large array of police equipment, lifesize jail cell with bars, and all of the latest scientific devices employed in law enforcement. Its appearance here is sponsored by Sheriff LeRoy Betterer and the Buckeye State Sheriff's association.

Donations received from visitors to the mobile "jail" are used for the support of Boys' Village. Milford Conn., a non-profit organization founded by Sheriff J. Edward Slavin of New Haven, Conn., creator of the "Jail on Wheels" exhibit.

A pioneer in the field of crime prevention during his 12 years as a Connecticut sheriff, Mr. Slavin founded Boys Village to give the homeless boys of his state and boys from disorganized homes a wholesome environment where they might have a chance to grow into good adult citizens. Boys Village is not a reclamation center for juvenile delinquents but is for boy who, through no fault of their own, have no suitable homes. The jail on wheels makes no admission charge but donations are accepted and forwarded for the support of Boys Village.

Jack Slavin, Raymond Hansen, and William Forte all of New Haven, Conn., are uniformed guides accompanying the Jail on Wheels" to escort visitors through the exhibit and explain the equipment and its uses.

FOUR DRIVERS FINED IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Four automobile drivers arrested on traffic charges by the state highway patrol here pleaded guilty and were fined in municipal court today the patrol reported.

John Wagner of Delaware arrested on an excessive speed charge on route 23 at 8:45 p. m. yesterday near Waldo, was fined $15 and costs.

Lloyd Carmony of Bucyrus was fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving with insufficient lights. He was arrested at 9:30 p. m. on route 4 south of Marion.

Samuel Jolliff of Richwood arrested at 8:30 p. m. yesterday on highway No. 4 south and charged with operating a vehicle without a muffler, was fined $10 and costs.

Kenneth Berry of Mansfield was fined $10 and costs on a charge of excessive speed. He was arrested Thursday at 9:30 p. m. south of here on route 4.

Grange Hears Reports On Relief Food Train

A patriotic program was given at a meeting of Martel Grange at the Martel school auditorium Tuesday night. Russel Neff and Ralph Noggle, representatives of Martel Grange to the Marion county CROP relief fair, at the meeting recently gave reports on the session and explained that grain and milk contributions for the food train are to be made. Earl Douce spoke on the food needs of the people in countries overseas. Starting the patriotic program was group singing of "America." Miss Twila Beers played a piano solo, "The Cradle of Liberty," a paper on "Independence Day" was presented by Mrs. Ward Sharrock and vocal solo, "America for Me," was by Everett Douce. Group singing of "America the Beautiful" followed.

At the opening of the meeting Kenneth Pangborn presided for business. A safety program was announced for July 27. At that time selecting of the Martel Grange entrant in the Buckeye Cinderella beauty contest will be carried out. On Aug. 10 Progressive Grange will visit and present an exchange program. Serving was by Mrs. Sharrock, Miss Romalene Sharrock, Miss Shirley Pangborn and Mrs. Ed Ed Myers.

GALION FACTORIES TO REOPEN MONDAY

Special to The Star

GALION, July 17—Galion factories will open again, Monday, after a two-week shutdown while repairs were being made to the No. 1 boiler at the Municipal Light and Power plant.

Rebuilding of the front and side walls and top of the boiler has been completed, and full power which had been cut to 2,500 KWH will be resumed Monday, according to Service-Safety Director John F Porter Usual power generated when factories are working is 5,000 to 5,500 KWH.

Factories have been closed here since the July 4 week-end when a week's mass vacation was given employes while power was curtailed The "vacation" was extended another week when work was slowed up because of lack of bricklayers.

MRS. B. H. BUETTIN of East Center street entertained with a miscellaneous shower last evening for the pleasure of Miss Sally Irene Drake, a bride-elect of next week. To carry out the nuptial theme the hostess arranged a miniature wedding scene for the table centerpiece. The altar, before which stood a bride and bridesmaid, was in yellow and white, Miss Drake's wedding colors, and tiny candelabra. The smaller tables had miniature bridal bouquets for place markings. Contest honors went to Miss Olga Lowinger. Guests from out of the city included Mrs. Frank Moore of Claridon, Miss Donna Emerson of Delaware and Mrs Russell Midlam of Columbus.

Miss Drake has asked Miss Virginal Molloy of Lima to be her attendant when she becomes the bride of Delmos A. Moore of Claridon in a ceremony to be read July 26 in St Mary Catholic church. Richard Drake will be Mr Moore's best man.

Honoring the twenty-first birthday anniversary of Miss Marilouise Bill of Marion Mrs Carroll Pickering entertained at the Pickering home on Park boulevard recently. Music was by Carroll Pickering, George Rowland and Mrs Zella Maude. Honors in games and contests went to Mrs Clyde Payne, Miss Bill and Miss Frances Payne. The hostess was assisted in serving by Misses Delores and Imojean Pickering and Donna Zigler.

Mrs. William Beaschler of near Brush Ridge was hostess for a meeting of the Harpster Mothers club Tuesday evening. For roll call the members told how they spent the July 4 holiday. Mrs Nelson Snyder, president, read a letter from China which also contained pictures of children wearing some of the clothes sent them by the club members. Mrs Frances Turney gave a report on Girl Scout activities and Mrs Helen Brents gave a talk on Eden Ahbez, the composer of "Nature Boy." Mrs Turney, Mrs Ona Morral and Mrs Eugenia White were in charge of games and entertainment. Mrs. Viola Parsell won a guessing box. Contest awards were won by Mrs Irma Myers and Mrs Lillian Brewer. Miss Sara Mattox and Miss Marge Kennedy were consoled. Miss Mattox received the penny contest award and a special award was won by Mrs Iona Parks. Mrs Florence Carey of Kentucky, a former member, was a guest. Mrs Myers, Mrs Beaschler and Mrs Snyder were named a program committee for the coming year. Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs Elizabeth Sigler and Mrs Rose Techantz. A club picnic for members and families will be held at Lewis Park in Harpster Sunday night, July 25.

Miss Phyllis Apt, a bride-elect of Sunday, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower recently when Mrs Richard Bender entertained at her home at 446 Reed avenue. The honored guest found her gifts on a table decorated in her chosen colors of pink, yellow and green. The evening was spent socially with contest honors going to Miss Erma Gorenflo, Mrs John F Gorenflo and Miss Clara Ellen Brady.

Present with Miss Apt, whose marriage to Milbourne Donaugh will take place at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren church, were Misses Erma Gorenflo, Joan Harraman, Wilma Hickman, Betty Jones, Clara Brady, Joan Montgomery and Bredna Kay Gorenflo, Mrs Raymond Donaugh, Mrs Clarence Gorenflo, Mrs John Gorenflo, Mrs Robert Gorenflo, Mrs Robert Emptage, Mrs Stanley Thomas, Mrs Joseph Perriman, Mrs Fred Bender and Mrs John Sutherland.

"Places of Interest I have seen in Ohio" were given in response to roll call by fifteen members of the Never Fail club at a meeting Wednesday evening with Mrs Vena Ruth near Marion. Mrs Mildred Tarbill, president, presided for the meeting, during which she named Mrs. Mildred Schaber, Mrs Ruth Bish and Mrs Vena Schertzer to make plans for the club's annual dinner party in September. Contests, in charge of Mrs. Flossie Ikanssa, were won by Mrs Cecil Kries and Mrs Arwilda Dreyer. The guessing box went to Mrs Hazel Uncapher. Mrs Minnie Bish was a guest. The next meeting will be Aug 11 with Mrs Uncapher.

Mr and Mrs W G Holtsberry of Green Camp entertained with a party Tuesday afternoon at their home for the pleasure of their son, Dennis, who was celebrating his fourth birthday anniversary. Hidden candy for the guests was found by notes contained inside balloons. Refreshments were served at a table centered with a large decorated birthday cake. Guests included Jo Ann and Pamela Hecker, Susan Schultz, Barbara Ann Berry, Beckey and Lonnie Rider, Charles and Nickey Layne Holtsberry all of Green Camp and Miss Shirley Benner of Marion.

Miss Alspach's Spinster Party Is Held at Hotel

MISS BARBARA ALSPACH'S party was given by Miss Patricia Smoot last evening in the presidential suite at Hotel Harding. The table was centered with yellow snapdragons and orchid hued flowers to carry out the bride-elect's wedding colors and completing the decorations were yellow tapers and matching mint cups. For the place markings the hostess sketched interesting events in the life of the honor guest from babyhood to her wedding day and an original poem by Miss Betty Short followed the same theme. An "advice" scrapbook for Miss Alspach was presented to her by the guests. Out-of-town guests included Miss Sue Root of Cincinnati and Mrs Richard Lemnitzer of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Miss Smoot will be Miss Alspach's maid of honor when she becomes the bride of Thomas J Boyd in an open church service Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church.

Volunteer Funds Give Happy Vacation To Children Here

By EDNA S. BUTTON

Vacation this year will spell swimming, a varied program of recreational sports, green grass upon which to romp and many other activities, for a group of Marion youngsters, who otherwise would remember the summer as just another few months out of school. And their collective thanks goes to several individuals and groups of folks who remember what it means to have days filled with fun and not half long enough to do all the things boys and girls can find to do.

Three persons in Marion are undoubtedly having the best vacation ever this year knowing that they made it possible for three youths to have an outing from June 25 to July 2, at Glendale Camp, Glendale, O., and next Monday six boys and one girl will take off for Greenwood Lake, Delaware for 10 days of fun and frolic, made possible by three Marion clubs. Both are Salvation Army camps.

A Spontaneous Movement

No one seems to know just how or when the idea got under way or if they do, they're not telling. Like Topsy it probably "just grew." So far the only ones actively identified with it are the three individuals Judge Edward Ruzzo of the county juvenile court, the Council of Social Agencies of the Marion Community Foundation, the Kiwanis club, Welcome Wagon Newcomers club, Les Amies club and the Salvation Army are in. There are no chairmen, no committees, no dues, just dividends—seeing that these boys and girls are having a good time.

Snowflakes were still in the air when a member of the faculty at the Glenwood school brought up the question of playground facilities for that neighborhood at a meeting of the Council of Social Agencies. And by way of good measure, added there were not even camping facilities for children who for lack of family finances, lack of one or both parents or other circumstances could not take advantage of opportunities for such vacation privileges. Adjutant Mary Nisiewicz, head of the Salvation Army Corps here, told of the two summer camps available to just such children.

Others Join In

Then came a day when the Kiwanis club wanted to do something for boys and girls who weren't getting just quite the break they should. Individuals interested in the city's future called Judge Ruzzo, wanting to know if there wasn't something they could do in the way of helping boys and girls. The Welcome Wagon and Les Amies club members thought it would be worth while to see that some young folks had a week or more of good wholesome playtime.

It all adds up to this: the money has been provided for the youngsters' vacations; the details are being cared for in Judge Ruzzo's office; the camps have been made available through the local Salvation Army office and the last named is seeing to it that there is transportation to and from the camps.

Camping facilities at both camps are adequate. At Greenwood Lake Brigadier James Coates, and Mrs. Coates who are in charge of the Columbus Salvation Army Corps, grams swimming games, handicraft and other activities. The children are given a medical examination before entering. Ages of the campers range from eight to 12 years.

There are more camping periods scheduled at Greenwood Lake and there are some vacancies. Other periods are from July 29 to Aug 7, Aug 9-18 and Aug 19-28—just in case.

Bonus Checks Reach $376,268 in County

Bonus checks totaling around $65,000,000 have been sent out to date to Ohio veterans and next of kin, the state bonus commission reported today in an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus. The total so far is 198,977 checks averaging around $325 at the present time.

GALION, July 17—Chester Freeland, 35, chief petty officer stationed at the Mansfield Navy recruiting office, was injured and treated at Galion City hospital Friday as the result of an automobile accident south of here which was caused by slippery pavement.

Freeland was driving east on 30-S in a Navy station wagon which went into a skid as he slowed for the intersection of Route 61. His car hit a North Electric Manufacturing company truck which was being driven west by Leslie May, 34, of Galion.

Police said they thought Freeland had apparently been resting his arm on the door when the crash came. He received facial cuts. Freeland was not seriously hurt.

In the cemetery softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we loved so dearly,
But whom we could not save.

You gave no one a last farewell,
You said goodbye to none,
A weary heart had ceased to beat
Before we knew you had gone

And when the evening stars are falling,
And we are sitting all alone
In our hearts there comes a longing
If you could only come home

You shall never be forgotten,
Never shall your memory fade
Sweetest thoughts will always linger
Around the grave where you are laid

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

IT'S TAPS for Black Jack

But the bugle that blew a final farewell for John J Pershing, as he sinks to rest among his comrades at Arlington, has already blown goodbye to the Army and the wars he knew

For the American Army and the methods of war have changed

The slim, chisel-faced man who earned in 52 years of service the highest military rank in American history symbolized the Army of the past.

HAL BOYLE

He entered the Army when it was still chasing Indians whose grandsons now do it all over again in Hollywood

The prospect of major action seemed so remote, the status of an Army officer was then so low in social regard, that Black Jack almost quit the service to study law

His decision to stick it out has given him a shining page in history, which otherwise might have listed him in an obscure and unremembered legal footnote

Pershing lived by discipline but disliked his reputation as a disciplinarian He went into an Army of rough, tough low-paid men who required even in peace the firmhand any Army does in war

It was still really a frontier army ruled from the saddle and transported into battle by the horse

In this kind of Army Pershing fought the Spaniards in Cuba, quelled the Moros in the Philippines, and galloped after Pancho Villa in Mexico.

THEN HE WAS CALLED to head a mushrooming army of drafted men in a tremendous new kind of war in Europe It was the war in which men learned—and had to learn fast—that engines, responsive only to their fuel were better weapons than loyal horses who didn't mind missing their oats occasionally if that helped the boss man get along with his problem.

That terrible discovery broke the heart of the old Army, although no horse ever complained. It still disturbs many old officers, sentimental over the hoofbeats of yesterday After the last war some tried hard to retain the horse cavalry They lost. They might as well have plugged for a bow and arrow battalion just because they liked archery.

AS THE ARMY HAD to turn more and more to engines and machines, it required more and more skilled and intelligent enlisted men And that meant it had to change its standards of treatment—to improved pay and less harsh discipline—to get the talented men it needs. The change is still going on Pershing, reared in the tradition of the old Army, launched the new American army on its way in 1918 And then he stepped down, and the younger men finished its mechanization.

Less loved than Lee, less personable than Eisenhower, Pershing showed none of Grant's human weaknesses but had the same iron determination and willingness to pay the price of battle victory

He died at 87, a military aristocrat as General of the Armies, more admired by his own countrymen than understood. He never made a gesture to gain their affection.

The people who really understood Black Jack were the people like him—the old cavalry comrades he will meet in "Fiddler's Green" the heaven all good cavalrymen go to from Arlington.

The first direct shipment from a Great Lakes port to Europe was made in 1847 by a small schooner which cleared from Chicago with wheat for Liverpool via the St. Lawrence.

This Far and No Further

THE sending of 60 more B-29's to Germany underlines the government's resolve to maintain its grip on Berlin. Circumstances have forced us to draw a line and say, "this far and no further."

The decision to divide Berlin into four sectors was the result of the Teheran and Yalta conferences. In that heady atmosphere we were committed to many covenants not openly arrived at, it might have been smarter for the western powers to have withdrawn two years ago when Berlin wasn't a testing ground. Now a withdrawal would be the equivalent of the German re-occupation of the Rhineland in 1936. That single incident, as much as any in that tragic decade, convinced Hitler the Allies would be a pushover.

Obviously the air-lift can't be continued over a long period. Diplomatic and economic sanctions might not hit Russia very hard but they will emphasize our intensity of purpose. A reopening of the treaty discussions will only give Russia a chance to bring pressure for a share of the Ruhr coal.

In all their dealings with Russia the Allied leaders are drumming into the Russians the realization that any further concessions will have to be won the hard way. Col. Frank Howley, American Berlin sector commander, summed up that policy by observing, "I don't know where we can go in Europe that Russia couldn't cut off our supplies. You have to start somewhere with the principle that agreements must be observed. If we want to hold our heads up in Europe, we have to stand firm."

"Stop or We'll . . . What?"

IT IS possible that the United Nations security council is ready to back up its ultimatum to the Jews and Arabs in Palestine to stop fighting. The council is committed to back up its decision with force.

The force might consist of warships, military aircraft and personnel representing the United States. It might consist of some of the armed forces of Great Britain and France. They are on the scene. They could be made available on short order to intercede between the Jews and Arabs.

There is the further possibility that the United Nations order for a truce might be obeyed by the defenders of Israel and not by the Arabs. That would simplify the task of interceding forces, because the military forces of the Arabs are subject to classifications as invaders.

These possibilities are interesting. If any of them materialized, it would be of great significance—but not as great as the significance of an ultimatum backed by nothing but the paper organization of the United States.

The League of Nations failed because it could do nothing but talk, and finally even the talk reflected its ineffectuality. The United Nations is threatened with failure because it too lacks means of enforcing its decisions. It can "roar at you as gently as any sucking dove . . . as 'twere any nightingale"—but no more.

Required Reading

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S call for a special session of congress, to get a head start at public expense on his campaign feud with Republican legislators, has had one good effect, the Republican platform now is required reading. Mr. Truman says he will make his political adversaries eat their promises bite by bite. Naturally, everybody now wants to know what the promises were.

They include more efficient assignments of duties within the government, doing away with overlapping jobs, extravagance and excessive centralization. They include a promise to use the power that government already possesses to combat inflation, instead of encouraging higher prices, which has been done under the Truman administration.

The Republicans have promised to get the new department of national defense organized so it will have a chance to work efficiently in event of war, something the Truman administration hasn't done. Their platform includes promises to keep the federal government from taking the lion's share of the tax dollar at the expense of local government and to revive in the United States a system of working federalism instead of the centralized bureaucracy developed under the New Deal. The Republicans have promised not to go any further with the silly practice of sending all tax dollars to Washington, then sending special emissaries to Washington to wheedle the same dollars out of a lot of bureaucrats—minus the bureaucratic bite, which may run as high as 90 per cent. They also have promised to enact promptly the civil rights proposals which already have plunged the Democratic party into a battle to the death. And they've promised to eliminate unnecessary federal bureaus and agencies—the last thing on earth Mr. Truman wants to have happen just before an election in which the federal payroll vote is his best hope.

It seems to be the prevailing slick stroke of political business. Perhaps it was. But if the Republicans have any instinct for campaign opportunism they can make Mr. Truman mourn the decision that let the opposition get a head start at his expense.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

"No Justification for Suppressing the Truth."

THIS can be an easy campaign. Tom Dewey can sit on the porch of his farmhouse at Pawling and hope for the best. Harry Truman can go to the Ozarks and hope that Dewey will stub his toe.

Neither course will satisfy the American voter. What is expected of both candidates is a debate on the issues that face the American people, the foreign as well as domestic issues. Anyone who attempts to use the bi-partisan policy to continue to keep the American people in darkness will stub his toe. For there are enough of us who will demand the truth and SOKOLSKY will keep hammering away at the necessity for the truth.

Certainly the bi-partisan foreign policy, arranged in wartime, was intended to set up a united front against foreign foes not to keep the facts from the American people. It was a policy developed with a view to consultation in advance of action not after the action had taken place. Unfortunately, such a plan is impossible except on broad general policies. For the detail of policy is formed by daily acts, notes and words committed not only by the President and his secretary of state but by every representative in the field. How can there be a consultation over each brick in this cumulated pile?

Must Answer Challenge

Thus far, it has been used principally to support the administration's policy in the United Nations, the Marshall plan, aid to Greece, Turkey and China and to suppress the facts. Senator Vandenberg's weakness at the Republican convention was due to his complete support of the administration's foreign policy. Although his advocates believed that that had made him a popular figure, largely because they were told so by New York and Washington publishers and radio commentators, actually it had lessened his stature with Republican delegates. That convention was not internationalist-minded nor was it isolationist. It was a nationalistic convention that expects a full explanation of the nature and character of our foreign commitments. Both Dewey and Truman will have to respond to that challenge.

For instance here is a problem. Much of the present Berlin impasse stems from four factors: the Morgenthau plan, the Potsdam agreement, the loaning of our plates for the Russians to print American money, which we not they, have to redeem, and the dismantling of German plants and shipping of them to Soviet Russia as reparations. Herbert Hoover was sent to Germany to make a study of the plant problem and reported on it adversely. Lewis H. Brown, the chairman of Johns Manville made a study of this problem and reported adversely. Both reports have been made public and the people realized that a change in policy had to be inaugurated by the administration, but that change was slow in coming.

The Collisson Report

Recently I am told President Truman sent a technical commission, headed by Captain N. H. Collisson, who, I am reliably informed reported adversely on the removal of the plants. This report has been suppressed. I am told that this report condemns what has been done in Germany with the connivance and assistance of the American government. I am told that it condemns the whole program of dismantling German plants and sending them to Soviet Russia.

I have not seen the Collisson report and I do not want to see it confidentially. I only want to read it when the whole American people can read it. I am sick and tired of being shown confidential documents which are unavailable to the taxpayers who pay for them and whose sons may be asked to die because of them.

The fact that some official heads would fall and that some great names would be muddied by the facts has nothing to do with the truth which must be told. There can be no justification for the suppression of the truth. There can be no justification for continuing to trick and fool the American people to cover up the errors of officials. The people are paying the bills; they must know what for.

That is the first issue of this campaign and the Republican and Democratic candidates must discuss it. The bi-partisan foreign policy must not be used to fool American.

A Bandit in Your Car

By Frank Tripp

I SELDOM pass a hitch hiker that I don't think of Wade Philpott. What happened to him has thwarted many a ride-thumber out our way.

Wondering how many of those I ignore are potential killers has become sort of a mental pastime as I drive through lanes of outstretched palms.

Philpott, a townsman of mine, befriended a meek looking young stranger, rode him and fed him from Ohio to Southern New York. Almost on his own doorstep the youth assaulted him and left him to die with a bullet in his spine. Then the rider took his car and money and drove into New England. Philpott lived, but is paralyzed.

TRIPP

* * *

We are likely to boast of our ability to judge people, think that such a thing could not happen to us that we can pick strange company with safety. Philpott's experience contradicts this as do other items in the news.

There was the case in the South where a driver picked up a mere shank of a boy, barefoot and hatless. Within ten miles the timid boy whipped a pistol from his pocket and shot his benefactor dead.

Then another ahead trudges an old lady surely she can be trusted. It would be heartless to pass her by. Invariably it would and you'd ride on for miles berating yourself for your selfishness.

Still, there was the "old lady" who turned out to be an escaped convict; had robbed the woman whose clothes he wore, and stole from her kitchen the knife which he thrust into the back of the man who gave him a ride.

These are not pleasant things to contemplate, yet they should make those who are free with their rides think of the chances they take.

* * *

Before the days of the automobile the railroads furnished this free transportation. Those who took advantage of it were not poor old ladies or barefoot boys. In the vernacular of that day, they were hobos.

They rode the freights or traveled "blind baggage" between express and baggage cars of passenger trains. They have been known to crawl beneath cars and ride great distances on the strut rods.

Lots of them were going no particular place and had nothing to do when they got there, which I suspect is true of many who now infest through highways and beg rides.

* * *

There is an old and reliable rule about going in swimming. It warns one never to go in alone where he cannot wade out. Those who pick up riders would do well to apply such a rule and never ride strangers when driving alone. That would help some. Crooks seek the lone drivers.

An old policeman endorses that rule and adds another which makes sense. Never, under any circumstances, pick up a stranger when alone, and when not alone, if you pick one up, put him in the front seat beside you and move your companion to the back seat.

If you pick up two he adds "you could be taking your life in your hands."

* * *

The danger of attack is only part of it. The driver is responsible for the safety of his passengers, even could be haled into court if a free rider so much as tore his coat on the car door.

It is a pity if deserving people who beckon at the roadside suffer for the violent acts of the few. But if you are one of the cautious you need lose no sleep over that.

Those who pretend to know through some sort of statistics gathered on the topic say that almost nobody who thumbs rides fails to get them.

That is exactly along comes an habitual ride scorner and all of the hitch hikers, honest or crossed finally get where they want to go.

Earth's Wobble Helps Make Oil

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK — The earth's wobbling motion has left its mark in the oil shales of the Rocky Mountains. The wobble is a motion like a top about to stop spinning. The earth takes about 21,000 years for a single wobble. How this motion has recorded itself in the oil shales is told in the latest publication of the Foundation for the Study of Cycles, by Wilmot H. Bradley of the U. S. Geological Survey.

These oil shales are like layered chocolate cake. About every 21,000 years, two layers of cake were formed, one for oil and one for dry stone.

The timing is not quite that precise, but is so close to the earth's wobble that Dr. Bradley suggests it is not a coincidence. He thinks each double layer of cake represents one wobble. The proof rests mainly on the fact that the climate changes during one wobble. During half of this time the climate, in the American Rocky latitudes, has short, hot summers and winters long and relatively cool. In the other half of the period winters are short and mild and summers long and relatively warm. Dr. Bradley has to explain also the fact that the change from oil to dry stone is sharp. The climate changes he notes, were certainly not sharp. He recites a little chemistry to show that in spite of gradual climate change the shift from making one kind of rock to the other might be abrupt.

Uneasy Lies the Head

Universal Public Service Proposed

Lilienthal Says Citizens Should Share Civic Responsibility

RECENTLY Dr. J. W. Studebaker, United States commissioner of education, resigned his position after 14 years of public service.

"I can no longer afford to remain in the federal government," explained Dr. Studebaker, who is 61 years old. When first appointed to the job in 1934 he was a widely known and successful superintendent of public schools in Des Moines—an outstanding educator.

President Truman, accepting the resignation, explained that he understood the situation an explanation given by many presidents obliged to replace federal officials forced to seek private employment for reasons of financial security.

The problem is not, of course, peculiar to the federal government. It's found in local and state governments, too.

The effect is to put a premium on mediocrity in public office, except in the rare instances where a public official is willing to give his talent to public service in recognition of a duty to perform it at less pay than he could command elsewhere. Such recognition has been restricted for the most part to wartime service.

A novel solution to the problem is proposed by David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. In a recent address at the University of Virginia he urged that every qualified citizen should give part of his life to the government, on a basis of patriotic duty.

Mr. Lilienthal's proposal ties in with the principle of a peacetime draft law requiring young men between the ages of 19 to 25 to give part of their lives to military service.

Calls for Definite Planning

"In the next three decades I urge that every educated person, who is qualified to do so, plan definitely to set aside a number of years for the rendering of service in the legislative or executive branches of his local, state or federal government and that as nearly as possible this be full-time service," Mr. Lilienthal wrote in The New York Times Magazine June 27, explaining the theory he had stated at the University of Virginia.

"I am proposing a widespread rotation of the not-too-pleasant duties of the public service. And I do not mean merely part-time or 'dollar-a-year' service alone. Nor in my opinion will it meet the situation to put this public service off until the people of this generation are of retirement age. I propose that, out of the best and most productive years of each man's life, he should carve a segment in which he puts his private career aside to serve his community and his country, and thereby to serve his children, his neighbors, his fellowmen and the cause of freedom."

Mr. Lilienthal, who became a director of the Tennessee Valley Authority in 1933 and served that agency until his appointment as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission in 1946 believes the grave public questions of the times are too important to be left in the hands of the ordinary run of public employes who make a career of government service.

He argues that his generation, reaching maturity in the 1920's, made a grave mistake of believing that the public business would take care of itself if the citizens of the country took care of themselves.

Warns Against Error

"I urge this generation not to drift into the same error," he says. "I say that there is no one in this country, however talented, however well trained, however ambitious, who can safely adopt the attitude toward local or federal government, in all its many ramifications, that we of the Twenties adopted . . . What I urge is a fluid kind of citizen-service, in which men and women move from private life into public service for a period of years, and then back to private life. . . . It seems only right to me that the grim and disagreeable tasks that so often are the lot of the responsible public servant should not be exacted of him for an indefinite period, but should be rotated among all who have an equal stake in these grave issues."

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO.

It was Sunday, July 17, 1938

Between 1,000 and 1,500 persons attended the opening of the centennial celebration at Green Camp. Outdoor union church services were held with congregations from the four churches, M. E., Baptist, Emanuel Reformed and Mt. Olive M. E. joining for the service held on a platform erected on the lawn of the school ground.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Moore of Marysville, former residents of Marion, observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary at the home of Mrs. Eva Malone of North Main street.

Miss Georgene McGhee and Aubrey Thompson were married in Wesley M. E. church with Rev. W. M. George of Cincinnati, a former pastor, reading the ceremony.

Pupils and teachers of the old Morral school in the decade from 1890 to 1900 held their first school reunion at the school building in Morral. The two oldest teachers in point of service were C. G. Francis and Mrs. Mary Brady Delong both of Marion.

Mrs. Sadie Clark, 65, native of Green Camp died at her home on Milbourne avenue.

A family reunion at Garfield park honored Mr. and Mrs. James C. Woods of Central Point, Ore. and brought together 40 members of the Morrison family, including five sisters who had not seen one another for many years. The sisters were Mrs. Woods, Mrs. Gertrude Priest of Jefferson street, Mrs. J. B. Hoagland of Barnhart street, Mrs. Florence Tracy and Mrs. Brainard Hoffer of Mansfield.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, July 17, 1928.

Miss Amelia Earhart, Wilmer Stultz and Louis Gordon, the "Friendship" fliers, left New York for Chicago where a four-day celebration had been arranged in their honor.

Before a well-filled house, Edward Benedict, radio star and guest organist, dedicated the new $15,000 organ at the Marion theater.

William Phelps was installed as noble grand at a meeting of Kosciusko Lodge No. 58, I. O. O. F.

Mrs. John Stark of Los Angeles, Calif. was visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Hogin of Cherry street.

Miss Marian Burnside and Warren Meister were united in marriage by Dr. B. L. George, pastor of Epworth M. E. church, at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Burnside on East Church street.

Mrs. J. L. Hoover, Mrs. Charles F. Anderson, Mrs. Bennett Bindley and Mrs. Walter E. Schattner entertained 135 guests at a tea at the Marion Country club.

Try Sleep Cure

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW—"Red Star's" Leningrad correspondent reports that the now well-tried system of prolonged sleep has been proven successful in the treatment of duodenal ulcers. The idea was originated by the celebrated physiologist, Pavlov. It was first used in the treatment of Schizophrenia, then for shell shock and later for wounds. The method has been used for treating ulcers since 1945, "Red Star" said. It is used on patients who do not respond to other treatment.

Each patient sleeps from 16 to 22 hours a day. The entire course of treatment lasts for 12 to 20 days. The patients are given soporifics. The new method has already been tried on 88 patients, and the majority of them have lost their pain, "Red Star" said. It said some of them have gone back to work and some have even lost their ulcers.

The force of one's being, if it has any force, must come from within.—R. W. Clark.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"Oh Say Could You See!"

TELEVISION did neither convention any good. It was really an over-exposure of their bad points. Ask the convention managers, not the video boys must take the rap. Television merely broadcast the true picture without the convention directors calling a halt to see that the subject came out well in the photograph.

* * *

Through video millions of Americans observed in utter amazement the ineffectual, the boredom and the bad manners known to the big speakers. The orators of the GOP had been shown against a background in which one woman reading a newspaper loomed large. Those at the Democratic party were made to look like mere stooges against a background of newsmen, copy boys, refreshment and nervous cases.

* * *

It tended to confuse and annoy video audiences. It is hard to pay attention to the main character in a show with a button-derby in progress all around him. At times there was so much helter skelter activity by so many minor characters all ignoring the speakers' references to Valley Forge, Thomas Jefferson and the Bill of Rights that one got the impression the setting was a crap game in mid-traffic.

* * *

It was uncomfortable to hear a ringing tribute to the barefoot heroes of the Continental armies and behold two dozen shirt-sleeved, cigaret-smoking bored-looking characters ambling heedlessly in front and thither in the immediate rear of the speaker.

* * *

It gave people an uneasy feeling during stirring allusions to the starving peoples of Europe, the heroes of Bastogne and the noble dead of two world wars to see a bunch of boys and girls at the elbows of the orator yawning, arguing gesticulating and behaving with complete disrespect.

* * *

Our notebook shows these episodes:

Speaker dwells on the tragic inability of millions of war heroes to get a roof over heads. (Five men in suspenders directly behind speaker turns back on him and giggle over something not clear to the audience.)

Speaker makes a stirring reference to Bunker Hill and Yorktown. (Two young men at his rear read what seems to be a dope sheet.)

Orator refers to the Liberty Bell, the Declaration of Independence and the glorious heritage of America. (So much heedless scurrying takes place in his rear that it looks like a review of pitchers in a Dodgers-Giants game.)

Keynoter quotes a thrilling passage from the speeches of Abraham Lincoln, refers to the great sacrifices of the Pilgrim Fathers and pictures the desolation in Europe. A bold-headed fellow demonstrates a new cigaret lighter to a pal at his side.)

* * *

ALL CONVENTIONS are, of course, disorderly and full of disrespect, but why make a movie picture spectacle of it? (We pause for a reply and get five delegates still asleep in their chairs.)

* * *

No professional showman would put in Hamlet with all the stagehands indulging in a beer party all around him. Macbeth is never done with the scene shifters, property men, wardrobe mistresses, popcorn vendors and dramatic critics getting equal billing.

* * *

Any competent showman would have located the speakers' platform so that its screening would not feature a study in unconcern. Or else have spent $4.32 for a few yards of curtains as a background for the main performers. Television bared the bones.

* * *

We have seen better manners at a wrestling show and steam-fitters' picnic. Democracy is too precious to picture it against a background of people behaving as if trying to walk off a bad case of jitters. The Democratic processes are too fine to be pictured by television in the light of catch-as-catch-can flashes from a fishing pier riot. Selah!

"So I say not 'Hail and Farewell,' but 'Farewell and Hail'."—Henry Wallace.

* * *

Anything to make it plain, simple and easily understandable.

In the face of the store leaders' hedging on the simple question, "Are you a Communist?" it surprises us that an inquiring congressman doesn't ask, in the department store shopping mood, "Can you tell me where I can find the candor counter?"

Let 'Em Alone

By TRUMAN TWILL

Something's going to have to be done to improve political conventions, the experts say—and here's one radio listener who dreads it.

Because as sure as station breaks and oily-voiced announcers the improvement the critics have in mind is aimed at taking the original flavor out of a noble national institution.

Certainly some convention speeches are funny. No one denies that some of the antics are ludicrous and unbecoming to the occasion. Those who've had a chance to see a good many conventions in action can agree without any trouble that the process is inefficient.

So what?

No one was talking about reforming political conventions before radio. The trouble started when nice Nellies began to worry about what the boys were going to sound like over the air. The Nellies now are worrying about what the boys will look like on the air. But why worry?

They look like themselves. They sound like themselves, and that's all to the good. It offends the nurtured notion that people who operate in the higher brackets of politics are any different from the ordinary run. They aren't. They're homely, they kick around the English language, they get things twisted and they sweat when it's hot.

Some are slick. A few are beautiful. Some are so painfully sincere it hurts to hear them talk and to comprehend what they're saying. A few are incredibly smart. But the average is no different from the average among the American people at large. Naturally, the reformers don't like that. They aren't interested in averages.

They'd rather put on a show, with everything ticking along like clockwork—and just as significant. They'd prefer to ditch demonstrations for favorite candidates, windy speeches, "man who" nominations and a lot of the other traditional nonsense of political conventions.

Then things would be more efficient, they say—but what they really mean is that things would seem more efficient. Politics would be less like politics and more like a radio program to sell somebody's gimmicks with a glamour boy to make the right pitch in the approved tone of voice.

But that wouldn't be politics, which always will be a burly-burly of over-excited human beings struggling with one another for the supremacy of pet ideas about how things should be done. In the United States, that is. Of course, in Hitler's Germany, in Mussolini's Italy and in Stalin's Russia, everything was or is efficient. The program always comes in fine. There are no surprises, no awkward pauses, no departures from the program. But who wants to claim that's better than the kind of politics which has set reformers to dreaming about how things could be improved here?

This is one vote by the delegate from Podunk for letting the conventions alone.

Man's Loyalty to The Highest

A Sermonette
By REV HENRY MAAG
Pastor of Prospect Street Methodist Church

• • •

Subscribed I. "To the faithful in Jesus Christ."

• • •

LOYALTY is one of the greatest forces in human experience Poets have praised it historians have recognized it It has brought an inner peace to the individual it has been a mighty creative and unifying force [illegible] the onward march of mankind We know that [illegible] sacrifices and sustained [illegible] are the greatest thing the world has known

How can we know when we are loyal to the Highest?

We [illegible] Jesus of Nazareth must ask to Him for guidance If we turn to our Bibles for light we soon find the word "loyal" used once either in the New Testament or the Old We have to remind ourselves that Jesus was never interested in any quality for itself His concern was with what it produced No one ever lived who was more loyal than He His loyalties are the very springs of His being

First He was loyal to Himself—to His best self

The [illegible] of accidental [illegible] at the very beginning of His ministry This represents a powerful [illegible] to be loyal to His highest self Next we must not overlook his emphasis on the value of loyalty to the higher self as revealed in His second commandment "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" In this we find a exalting quality of self respect

Jesus was loyal to all mankind Someone said it would have been easy not to be in those bigoted provincial days when group passions ran high He lived in the midst of intense racial national and religious hatred but He saw as we are beginning to see or ought to see that bigotry and prejudice lack true self approval Every high-thinking mind and liberal soul must continually fight against prejudice Jesus consorting with the despised and the outcast was a powerful [illegible] of this loyalty which was not stopped by man made barriers

He was Loyal to the Truth At the beginning of the Christian era truth was thought to be fixed New ideas especially new religious ideas filled men's hearts with terror Men feared change even more than they fear it now But loyalty to the old often implies disloyalty to the new "New wine Jesus said cannot be put into old wineskins else the new wine doth burst the wine-skins and the wine is spilled but new wine must be put into new wine-skins" And loyalty to truth must take precedence over loyalty to any part of it, however devoutly held

His greatest Loyalty of all was to his God No other loyalty must be allowed to conflict with that To point this He made a statement that to our Western minds seems exaggerated If any man comes to me and does not hate his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters yea and even his own life he cannot be my disciple This of course is the Eastern fashion of hyperbole nothing must stand in the way of supreme loyalty to God

These loyalties of Christ are so complete and far-reaching that they put us to shame How trivial our own seem beside them These are emphases of perfection

We must not hesitate to question our loyalties However we must beware what the psychologists call "rationalizing" which is simply another name for what the man of the street calls "alibi shooting" to oneself If our loyalties are good nothing can shake them Loyalties to the highest can never be intolerant

It all comes to this We must test our loyalties by the eternal values of life we find them in Christ Jesus our Lord We dare not go elsewhere So our text "Ye the faithful in Christ Jesus" Loyalty to Christ is not to believe about Him only It is readiness to sacrifice our lesser loyalties to the higher to His cause

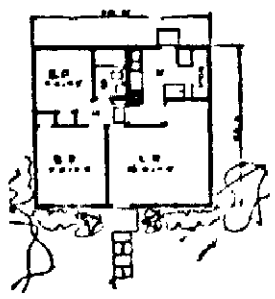
Small Modern Colonial Has Special Features

The elevation of the small house illustrated gives one the immediate impression of a Colonial home such as may still be seen along the Lancaster Turnpike or on the outskirts of New Haven or Boston. The impression ends at that point because the old Colonials found the heating problem too great to permit the use of corner windows or large banks of glass. The modern homebuilder looks for immediate atmosphere at the first glance plus thorough modern facilities. The best of both are incorporated in this house.



The interior offers a good plan. There are two bedrooms well away from the living room an excellent living room offers almost 200 square feet of floor surface and is well partitioned away from kitchen and bath.

The heat is supplied by a floor-furnace which takes up no space whatever as it is installed beneath the floor.

Providing that the house is built in climates which do not require heat, both this item and the chimney shown may be omitted.

The exterior of the house may be finished in any standard material the owner might select. As for color, a real barn red for the walls, white trim and natural-color wood shingles or slate colored composition shingles would be ideal.

The window boxes shown are not essential in the first building of the house but can be added at a later date. The wide board fence adds much to the house but can likewise be added later.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

No Basement and Condensation

Q. I built a ranch style home last fall. It is sheathed with insulating board and sided with 8 inch beveled siding. The inside is plastered over the insulating board. This house is heated with a space heater. There are three rooms and bath. The house has cement blocks for foundation and four feet clearance in the unfinished basement. The walls are of natural stone and all earth taken out. My trouble is condensation. The floor joists are wet for about two feet all around the wall. What can I do to stop the condensation?

A. Your space heater may be partly to blame if it is not vented properly as it probably is discharging the vapors of combustion into the air of the house. The venting should be taken care of. For another thing, as you say the wall is on natural ground and all earth taken out, I believe there is still enough earth left in the cellar space to cause moisture. This dampness from the ground works up into the wall spaces causing dampness and condensation. If you cannot lay a good vapor proof concrete floor at this time it would help to insulate the inside of the floor boards.

Mr. Whitman offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning home repair work. If you would like to have his leaflet W-5 on "Condensation and Eliminating Dampness" send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to Roger C. Whitman care of The Marion Star, P. O. HOME OF THE MONTH

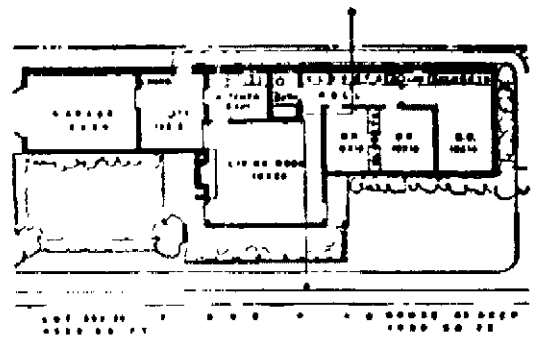
No. 27



Entrance is through a vestibule which leads to a sprawling living room that has a feature fireplace, unbroken rear wall and is composed of storage closets with sliding doors and two smaller bedrooms are separated by a storage wall of the same type. Master bedroom has its own lavatory, with the main bath located at the entrance to this home's sleeping wing.

Garage, laundry and utility room form the entire wing balancing the bedroom section, and the large living room extends forward with kitchen and bath along rear wall. Built-in cabinet and china shelves, handy to kitchen and area used for dining, are beside living room fireplace. While the living room's front wall of glass is shown protected by a rustic fence for city living, in the country this picture-wall can overlook the garden or rolling terrace.

Planned originally for year-around air conditioning this home is adaptable to most locations and climates. Its designer, Jules F. Rother of Evansville, Ind., was prize winner in a recent PRACTICAL BUILDER Magazine monthly "Practical Miracle Home" contest.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

A Reaction Due to Allergy

Meniere's disease is one of the strangest of the many disorders, now thought also to be due to allergic reactions.

People afflicted in this way are apparently well unless they eat some food or come in contact with something to which they are allergic and then a most unpleasant episode ensues. The first reaction is likely to be extreme dizziness and impairment of the hearing in one ear, the sounds of the outside world being replaced by a persistent and annoying ringing in the affected ear. During an attack the patient grows pale and often suffers from cold sweats, sickness at the stomach and vomiting.

The exact reason why an allergy should take this form in some people is yet to be found, but the unpleasant symptoms can be accounted for by the fact that the reaction brought about by the allergy involves the blood vessels supplying the ear, which is not only the organ of hearing but also houses the body's balancing mechanism.

A number of different forms of treatment have been employed. One of the most recent consists of the use of histamine diphosphate. When persons are allergic, histamine is formed in excessive amounts in the body. Hence the object of this treatment is to make the patient less sensitive to histamine.

In employing the treatment the histamine diphosphate is given slowly at the rate of 40 to 60 drops a minute by injection into a vein. The histamine diphosphate is dissolved in about a half pint of salt solution.

The treatment is given daily for ten days. At the end of this time if no improvement is noted the process is repeated for another 10-day period. Then the preparation is given by injection under the skin, starting with a small dose which is gradually increased until some discomfort is produced. Reaction may consist of flushing of the face and a feeling of heat.

More than a hundred patients were treated in this way and about three-fourths of them were completely relieved of the ringing in the ear while the remainder had marked improvement. The hearing was improved in nine out of ten cases and the dizziness relieved in about the same number.

In older patients who had signs of deficiency in vitamin B-complex as shown by redness of the tongue and lining membrane of the cheek, the vitamin B-complex was given by injection into a vein three times a week. Later on it was given by mouth.

Of course treatment of this type must be carefully carried out under the direction of the physician who will determine in just what cases it may prove of value.

Questions and Answers

J. C.: What is the cause of a basal metabolism reading of 24 minus?

Answer: The exact cause of the low metabolic rate cannot be stated. It may be due to a thyroid deficiency.

Treatment with thyroid extract would probably be helpful. It is suggested that you consult your physician concerning the proper dose to be used.

THE GARDEN CLINIC

By VICTOR H. REES
Ohio State University Extension Floriculturist

Q. I wonder if you would be kind enough to answer a few questions regarding a flower show we would like to hold this year.

Could you make any suggestions regarding the schedule for such a show, as to the classes, etc. that should be included?

The specimen containers we have always used are such ugly things we were wondering if it's possible to obtain any, in glass possibly, that would be more attractive. The ones we have are those tall green paper-mache things that are always too big or too wide for the specimens.

By the way how many stalks should there be for each specimen?

A. We have a leaflet on Planning and Staging Flower Shows which will help any group.

It would not be fair to the exhibitors to wait until after the show has been opened for some time to have it judged. I would suggest moving to another place where you could get in in time to have it judged before being opened to the public.

You will find the cardboard milk bottles are perhaps a little less unsightly than ordinary milk bottles or other containers often used for specimens.

A definite number of specimen flowers should be specified. Depending on the kind it may be one, three or five. Occasionally more are specified but it makes it harder to judge.

LT. COL. McELHENY

LT. COL. M'ELHENY HONORED BY BRAZIL

Former LaRue Man Is Given Order of Merit.

Lt Col John D McElheny son of Mr and Mrs John D McElheny, of near LaRue, has been signally honored by the Brazilian government according to word received by his parents.

At ceremonies in the Brazilian embassy in Washington, D C, on June 15, Col McElheny was made a member of the Order of Merit, appointment to which is made by the government of that nation on the basis of distinguished military service. The certificate of award was signed by Canrobert B Da Costa, Brazilian secretary of war.

Col McElheny graduated from the United States Military academy at West Point in 1936 and from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1938 to receive assignment to the army corps of engineers. He served both in the United States and in Europe during the war.

He is now serving at West Point as senior officer in charge of engineering instruction at the military academy.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I WAS not ashamed of my misty eyes as I looked at the exquisite little gown which Philip Vernon's magic had brought from his theatrical store house for Faith's role in the secret wedding of his stepdaughter. Olivia to Eugene King Georgian, of Troon. I think almost any mother would have been a bit "teary around the lashes" if she could vision a darling little daughter in such a costume.

It was a gown of yellow gauze so delicately colored and fashioned that it was more a creamy tint than a yellow. And it also was ruffled to the waist like that of the bride's. And while the seed pearls were not so much in evidence as in the gowns of the older women, yet they were there in little clusters accenting the neck line and the shoulders.

"I think she ought to wear a tiny wreath of the sweetheart roses, Olga said dreamily. "Do you think she would object?"

"Object?" I echoed incredulously and Mary laughed outright.

"Faith wouldn't object if you decked her out like a circus horse," she said. "But isn't it a shame she can't see the gown until we get out to the farm?"

"Why can't she see it?" Philip demanded and Olga promptly poured oil on the troubled waters.

"Because they cannot be sure of a child's discretion, my Philip," she said. "She is not to know there is to be a wedding, or even a house party, until after she arrives at the farmhouse. She thinks we are all going out to the farm for an ordinary weekend as we so often have done before."

"Yes, yes I see," Philip answered. "I am terribly sorry, but I must hurry away now and attend to the publicity which Charles wishes planted about our house party."

Olga put her hand on his arm. "I will go with you to the door, my Philip," she said, and she must have murmured something to him, because he turned at the door to answer the question Mary had not dared to ask.

"I saw Noel, Mary," he said casually, "and delivered your message."

"He asked me to tell you," he went on, "that he will arrange things so that he will be able to go out with us to the afternoon of the day after tomorrow as Charles has planned. And now, I must go."

"Thank you so much, Dad," Mary sent after him, and he lifted his hand toward her as he went through the door after he had kissed Olga as though he were going on a thousand mile journey.

Mary gave an exaggerated little sigh as the door closed, and she, Olga and I exchanged furtive smiles of relief. But we were careful to have our faces sober by the time Olga came back to us.

"So far so good," Olga said, as she sat down in a chair near us. "Madge you have everything about the flowers, haven't you?"

"Except the color of the corsage for yourself and the other women who are not in the wedding party Katharine, Lillian and myself."

"I think mine will have to be white orchids centered with a purple one," she said reflectively, "because of the trimming of that gown which Philip brought me. I think corsages of large white orchids for you three. Those will go with any evening gown you choose."

"This looks to me like the last word in weddings, even if it is going to be a secret one," Mary said, but her eyes flashed a puzzled message to me, something I already was pondering. What had happened to Olga's scheme to get Olivia out of the way while she talked Philip Vernon out of his idee fixe that Noel should be Georges' best man.

Plan Special Program For Bethlehem Grange

Plans were made for a special program to be presented at the next meeting of Bethlehem Grange Wednesday July 21 when the youth committee of the Grange, composed of Miss Hazel Clunk, Don Williams and Miss Doris Gruber, met recently at the home of Miss Clunk near Waldo.

At the Grange meeting, the Exhibit will be held and will be chosen from the subordinate grange and a humorous and dramatic reading contest will be held in the same group. Those entering the latter contest are Misses Marilyn Denzer, Betty Fogle, Barbara Kaelber, Doris Gruber, Esther Augenstine and Hazel Clunk.

Ladies of the Grange are to bring to the meeting a "household hint" and the men are to bring a "labor saving device." These are to be judged by Miss Mary Faye McMillan, county home demonstration agent, and Miss Louise Augenstine, and Arthur Smith, county agricultural extension agent. A "Hobby Show Exhibit" will be held and will be judged by H L Swick, Dallas Cornet, Arthur Smith, Miss McMillen and Mrs Martha Rice.

DOLA SCHOOL NAMES NEW EXECUTIVE HEAD

Special to The Star

KENTON, July 17 — Mervyn Penn, native of Dola and graduate of Ohio Northern university, has been selected as executive head of the Dola school, Hardin county Superintendent Frank C. Bramlett announced.

Penn who previously taught 13 years at Dola before he became ill last year, succeeds Wayne Matthews who resigned to accept a similar position in the Saddlebridge schools in Madison county, Ohio.

BOTH WERE SCORING

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI — O. P. Caylor who managed the Cincinnati Reds in 1890 when they were in the American Association, and Johnny Neun, present boss of the Reds, share one distinction. Caylor wrote baseball news for the Cincinnati Enquirer before becoming a manager and Neun wrote sports for newspapers in Baltimore before taking over the helm of the Reds.

HARDING 1938 CLASS TO HOLD REUNION

Arrangements Made at Meeting of Committee.

Plans were furthered for the ten-year reunion of the graduating class of 1938 of Harding High school to be held Sunday, Aug 1, at the Harrison-Smith park in Upper Sandusky when the committee in charge of arrangements met Wednesday night in the managers' office at the Palace theater

The affair is to be a picnic with entertainment planned for everyone Basket dinners will be served both at noon and in the evening with drink to be provided, contests will be held with prizes to be awarded, and swimming will be available in the park pool

Persons who have no transportation to the park are being asked by the committee to phone 8376 and arrangements will be made for taking them to the park. Any family wishing to contribute toward the cost of the affair are requested to send $1 to Don Utz at the Palace theater He is a member of the planning committee

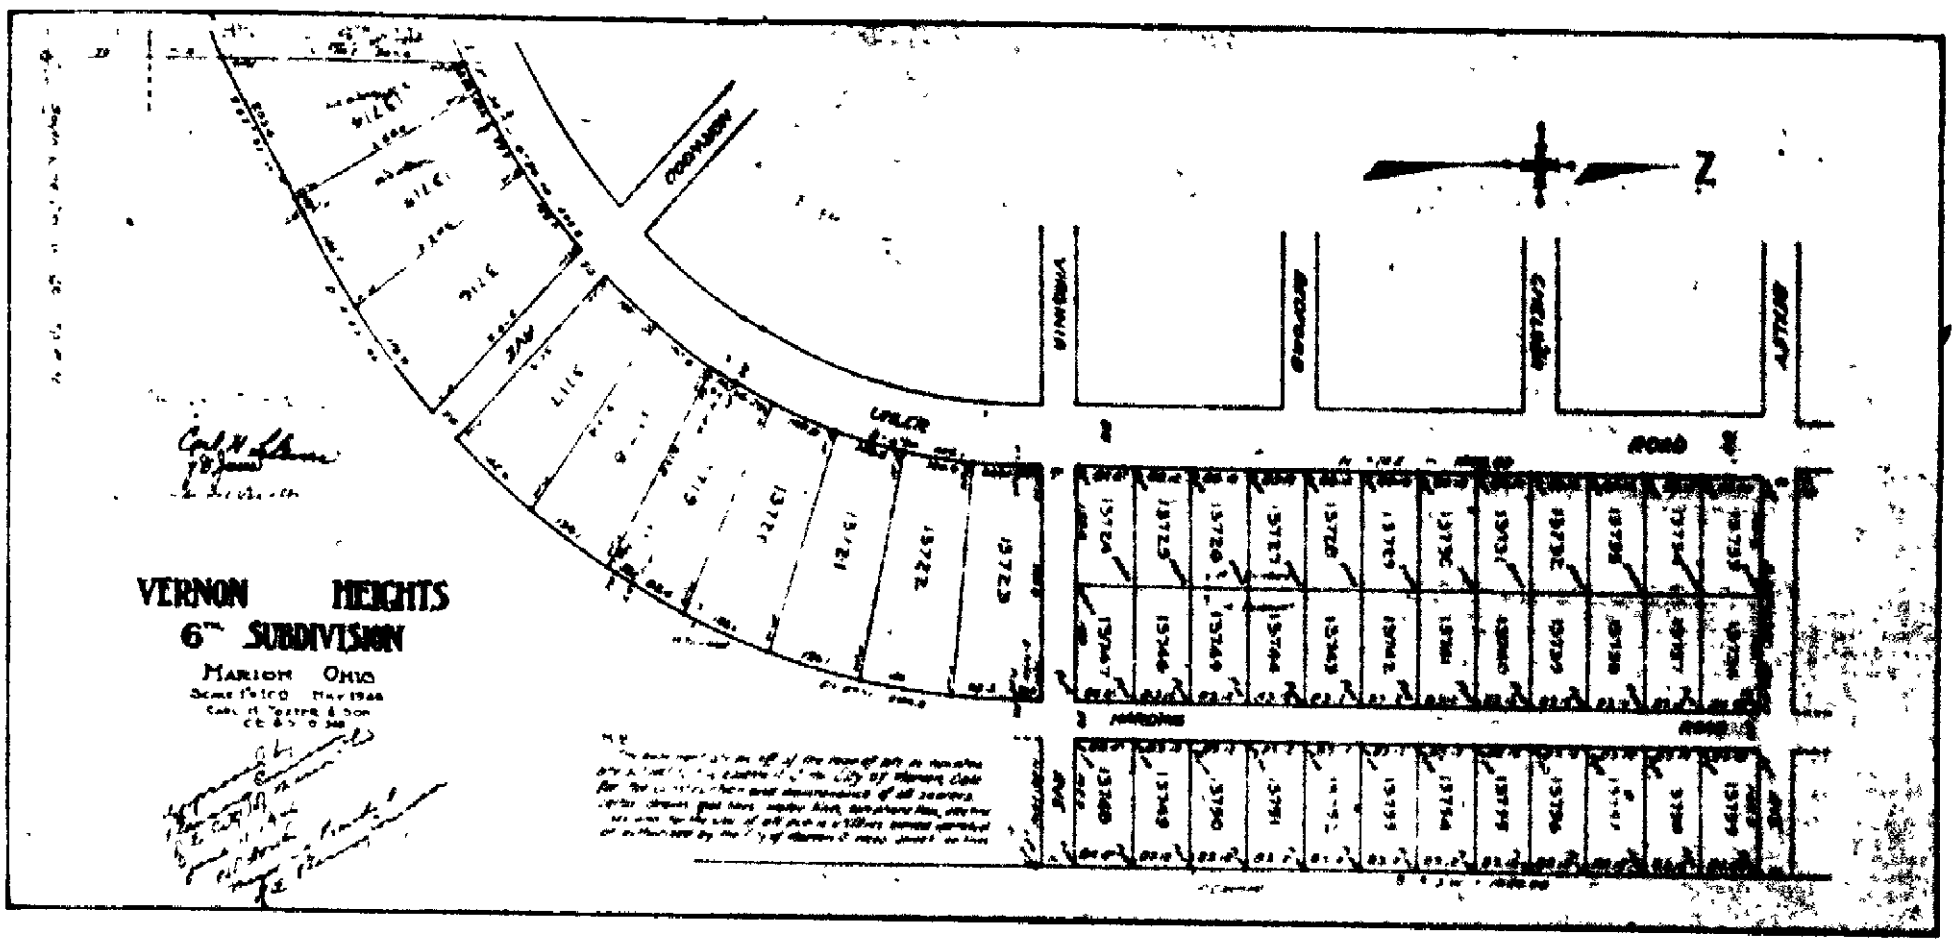
VERNON HEIGHTS HOME BUILDING NOW IN HIGH GEAR!



17 Homes Now Planned for 1948 with 11 Already Under Construction

All of the above lots are now sold except seven one more home sites, No. 13,717 to No. 13,755. All with a marvelous one mile view to the southeast, with drainage into the Ququa. We offer these sites at interesting prices.

In our Star ad last November 8th we anticipated TWELVE new houses for this year but the impression is gaining weight that although prices are high, compared with the past—they will be higher—and WE PREDICT that you'll be glad in three years that you bought now. This applies to new modern houses more particularly. With a national debt of over 250 billion dollars IT IS ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL that the national income be kept at a high level. This means high wages and high commodity prices Washington knows that 6 billion dollars of interest on the government debt, requires doing business with a BILLION DOLLAR YARD-STICK and threw the old million dollar one into the ash can.

SO IF YOU HAVE THE MONEY OR THE CREDIT AND THE DESIRE to live in Vernon Heights in a new and better home, see these new Uhler Road homes now being built. May we make an appointment to show you the south house with the stone front that is now nearing completion? The view looking east and southeast surpasses anything in Marion These homes and others will be in the $18,000 to $24,000 class Other more modest homes may be built. Also seven prominent Marion citizens are building homes of their own, four of these are on the Boulevard, one on Virginia avenue, one on King avenue, one on Rosedale avenue Others are planning new homes who waited through the depression, the recession, and the war.

Maybe you'll be interested in trading in your present home We have buyers for homes in all price ranges

Why not move out of the NOISE ZONE into the OZONE? There is always a breeze in Vernon Heights.

BELOW — Looking north on the same Uhler Road today The second house with front chimney has been sold to Mr D Robertson of Universal Cooler Corp. No storm water in these basements—they drain into the Ququa ditch, NOT into the city sewer system. These homes all have gas furnaces.

NEW SITES will be available this fall in southwest Vernon Heights, south of the Boulevard. New deep sewer outlets have already been installed with new paving to follow.

Gay One Sets Meet Record In Winning Both Dashes of Feature

By GEORGE SCOTT

A brown filly by the name of Gay One and a driver called Scotty Welch made 4 200 harness racing fans glad they went to the fairgrounds last night

It was a record breaking night for the three year old Gay One

1. She was the first harness horse of the meet to romp home with four wins as Scotty Welch drove her to victories in the fifth and seventh dashes By the wins she copped the Mt Gilead Trophy and the lion s share of the $1000 purse

2. In the seventh race a one and 16th mile 3-year-old pace she established a new time for the distance at the meet of 2 14 This is the best time for the long run of the meet so far and excellent time for the distance

3 The flying pacer covered the last mile of the second dash for the Mt Gilead Trophy in 2 06 3/5 just short of the track record of 2 03⅕ and in her last quarter of the contest she rung up a terrific time of 30 and 3/5th seconds

Introduces Mayor

H E (Pop) Webster introduced Mt Gilead s Mayor R R Bettington who awarded the Mt Gilead silver trophy to Scotty Welch and the horse he drove to triumphs in the fifth dash of a mile and the seventh of one and a 16th The mayor said that he considered the presentation an especial honor for he was raised with C E Burkepyle of Mt. Vernon, owner of Gay One

The night s only double win driver, Scotty Welch went to the top in wins in the meet so far He now has seven, one more than Walt Dispanette and Jimmy Wingfield who are tied with six

In both the fifth and seventh races Bud Mite went into a five length lead at the starts But Scotty Welch knew what she could do and on the back stretch in both contests the filly did it A lot of races will be run before many fans at the fairgrounds last night forget Gay One's running of that last mile Bud Mite had speed and few thought the brown filly would catch her In both races the field of five horses placed exactly the same.

Cedar Azoff

In the second race Slim Shilling, leading driver at Hilliard before coming to Marion raceway brought in his fifth win Cedar Azoff went into an early lead in the mile run but she broke on the first back stretch It was a long pull back but the gold and blue colors of Shilling passed the field at the three-quarters pole and no one caught him after that. Slim was due for a win and should be a tough man to beat from now on

Everyone but You Know broke in the fourth race as the bay gelding took it with ease Owner and driver Tom Groom could have walked the 11-year-old You Know home first.

In a good race Doctor Counsel came from nowhere to win in the last quarter The victory gave driver Jimmy Wingfield six firsts and placed him in a tie with Dispanette just behind Scotty Welch

Nine races were scheduled but after the eighth dash the rains came The judges announced the track unsafe but after Gay One s performance the rest was anti-climax anyway

Bobby Jo took the lead on the first back stretch and had no trouble after that winning the third race by 10 lengths The win gave Lou Huber Jr a total of four

The daily double paid $63 for winners Riley 1st in the first and Cedar Azoff in the second Long shot of the evening was Lowland Scott who won the sixth race to pay $26 40

Special to The Star

NEWARK July 17 Roughly treated in their two-game series here Marion s unlucky Cubs headed for Zanesville tonight where they will open a week-end series with the Dodgers

The Yankees spanked the Cubs here last night 7 to 2 for a clean sweep of the two game series Newark for the second night in a row played errorless baseball. Marion was guilty of three miscue and two of them hurt Mike Kelly who pitched all the way

Big Ernie (Rebel) Lawrence hurled six-hit ball in going the route for the victorious Yankees He allowed only one safety in the first four frames

The victory was Newark s ninth in the last 11 games

Marion scored first in the third frame B lslander singled to left and Neukirch walked to start the frame Johnny Juhasz new third sacker sacrificed King flied to short center for the second out the runners holding up Bolduc laced a single to left scoring Bohlander Neukirch rounded third and was on his way to score but he fell down and was tagged out by Catcher Jack Maroney

Newark moved ahead with two walks singles by Sal Sasso and Allan Washburn and an error by Manager Frank Kristie

Marion tied the game in the fifth Juhasz tripled with one away and tallied on Stan King s grounder to short Three walks singles by Krochina and Kopsit and an error by Juhasz put Newark ahead for keeps in the sixth as the Yanks collected three runs

Allan Washburn who had a big time at the plate for Newark tabulated the Yankees' final two runs in the eighth when he tripled to right with Lawrence and Sasso on base

Juhasz s triple was Marion's only extra base hit

Burt Shotton Gets Off To Good Start with Brooklyn

By The Associated Press

Burt Shotton who came out of nowhere to lead the Brooklyn Dodgers to the 1947 National league pennant got off to a good start in his 1948 debut

Shotton managed the Dodgers to a 4-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds yesterday after assuming command in the greatest managerial shakeup in baseball history

The soft-spoken Shotton replaced Lippy Leo Durocher at the Dodger helm with the flamboyant Durocher moving across the river to take over the helm of the New York Giants Durocher replaced Mel Ott who resigned Ott, however will remain in the Giant organization probably as an aid to Carl Hubbell, Giant farm director

In the other managerial change Allen (Dusty) Cooke was named temporary manager of the Philadelphia Phillies replacing Ben Chapman

Cooke Fared Worse

Cooke, however didn t fare as well as Shotton as the Cardinals thumped the Phils, 8-2 in a night game at St Louis

Durocher s debut was delayed until today as the Giants scheduled night game with the Pirates in Pittsburgh was postponed because of rain

For a while it appeared the Dodgers would lose as Grady Hatton belted a two-run homer in the first inning off Joe Hatten to give Ewell Blackwell a working margin

Blackwell blanked the Dodgers on one hit going into the seventh inning when the Brooks scored a run

The Dodgers drove Blackwell to cover in the eighth and won the game with a three-run rally

Cooke s Phils were in the game with the Cards for five innings Leading 3 2 going into the sixth the Cards broke the game wide open scoring four runs Three of them came on a double by relief pitcher Ted Wilks

Braves Beat Cubs

Meanwhile the league leading Boston Braves moved six and one-half games ahead of the Pirates by taking a wild 12-10 decision from the Cubs in a day en counter at Chicago

In the American league the runner-up Philadelphia Athletics trounced the front-running Cleveland Indians 10-5 in a night game at Philadelphia to shave the Indians margin to one-and-one-half games.

The A's hammerde Bob Feller out of the box in the first inning scoring five runs

The triumph enabled the A s to move two games ahead of the third place New York Yankees who were upset 10-4 by the St Louis Browns at the Yankee stadium

The rising Boston Red Sox downed the Detroit Tigers 5-3 in Boston to move to within two-and-one-half games of the Yanks

In a night game at Washington the last place Chicago White Sox edged the Senators 3-2

KIRK CREDITS PHONE CALL FOR GOLF WIN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O, July 17 — Peggy Kirk of Findlay credited a long distance telephone call today for her impressive 11 and 9 rout of Carol Dirnger in the 1948 Ohio Women s Golf championship match

Miss Kirk, a smiling 26-year-old veteran of national tournament play couldn t make her clubs do the things she wanted them to during preliminary rounds of the state meet

I played bad all week" she explained Then Thursday night my pro called me long distance What's the matter down there he asked

"I told him what I was doing and he helped me she added

Just how much he helped was demonstrated by the way Miss Kirk went around the first 18 holes in the 36-hole title match She shot a 74—two under women's par at the rolling 6 600 yard Columbus Country Club course — and took a 9-up lead on 22-year-old Miss Dirnger, who plays out of Tiffin

It was the second straight Ohio title for Miss Kirk It also gave her a one-match edge over Miss Dirnger in their tournament play Each had won two previous matches

RISING RICHMOND FACES ACID TEST

By The Associated Press

Richmond hopes for a drive from last to first place in the Ohio-Indiana baseball league get the acid test during the next few days.

Manager Ollie Byers' Braves, who have won 13 out of their last 16 starts, play their next 14 games with the top three teams in the league—Springfield, Muncie and Portsmouth. Richmond had won only 22 of 65 before starting its streak.

Portsmouth's Athletics proved soft touches for the Braves Thursday and Friday at Richmond. The Braves completed a sweep of the two-game series last night with an 8-4 triumph behind Joe Tamaska's four-hit pitching.

Tonight Springfield, smarting from two straight trouncings at Muncie, travels to Richmond. Muncie trimmed the Giants again last night, 6-2, as Harold Valentine tossed a seven-hitter while 150 friends from Troy, O., cheered him on. The win stretched Muncie's first place margin to five full games.

Zanesville lost to last-place Lima, 5-4, but managed to hold fourth place by one percentage point over up-and-coming Newark which made Marion its ninth victim in 11 starts, 7-2.

Bill Bohne's classy relief pitching stopped Zanesville. He came in with the bases loaded and no one out in the third, and allowed three hits the rest of the way.

A'S CHASE FELLER IN 1ST, WIN 10-5

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, July 17—The Cleveland Indians played one of those games last night. In other words, they had their brains beaten out by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Bob Feller and Bob Muncrief couldn't get the pesky A's out, while their supporting cast was guilty of three errors and numerous mental blunders. The result was a 10 to 5 Philadelphia triumph which sliced the Tribe's American league lead to a game and a half over the A's.

Feller who was the target for vigorous booing by the 18,500 Shibe Park customers, was blasted out in the first inning and was able to retire only one batter as the Athletics tallied five runs. Muncrief was treated almost as rudely, but things might not have been so bad had the Indians' defense not fallen apart.

Errors were charged to Manager Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon. Each threw wildly to first in attempting to complete double plays which would have prevented four runs in the first two innings.

Feller pitched to only six batters before he was relieved in the first inning. Five of them hit safely and three runs scored, so Feller was charged with the loss, his 11th of the season, equalling his total losses for the entire 1947 season.

The Athletics collected three more runs in the second and added single tallies in the fourth and sixth. Their attack added up to 15 hits.

The Indians had one big inning, the sixth, and it was sparked by Ken Keltner's 22nd home run with two aboard.

NORMAN ROY WINS 7TH GAME FOR BREWS

By The Associated Press

Adding a helping hand—or arm—to the Milwaukee Brewers' drive to overtake Indianapolis in the lead of the American Association pennant race is 19-year-old Norman Brooks Roy.

The strapping youngster signed by Jeff Jones, Boston Braves scout after a sensational record at Waltham, Mass., high school, won his seventh victory for the Brews last night against two defeats. The 200 pound right hander who compiled a 6-1 record with Pawtucket R. I., of the New England league last season hurled a five hitter to beat the Toledo Mudhens 4-1.

While the Brews were taking a single win, Indianapolis picked up ½ game—expanding its lead to 1½—by sweeping a doubleheader from Kansas City. Johnny Hutchings' expert relief pitching from the second inning on gave the Tribe the first game 5-3. The Indians took the second 2-0 behind Cal McLish who was supported by a pair of unearned runs in the fifth and Bob Gunn' homer in the seventh.

Columbus continued in the race—3½ games out of the lead—by slugging out 9-5 and 14-10 decisions over Minneapolis.

Louisville rapped St. Paul 8-4 but the Saints recouped with a 9-0 second victory.

Vic Ghezzi Favorite In Dapper Dan Tourney

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, July 17 — Vic Ghezzi, Englewood, N. J., pro was the overwhelming favorite today as the $16,500 Dapper Dan invitational golf tournament went into its final 36 holes.

There was plenty of reason for Ghezzi's supporters to be optimistic. Yesterday he turned in his second consecutive 68 to wind up with a 36-hole total of 132—12 strokes below par on the Alcoma Country Club course and five strokes ahead of Jimmy Demaret, of Ojai, Calif.

Demaret himself was below par for the second day, posting a 68 to go with his three-under par 69 on the first day for 137.

Sixty players remained in the event for the final two rounds. Five amateurs were among them. Frank Souchek, long driving Pittsburgher, led the simonpures with a 140.

M'CARTHY TO MEET PADDOCK IN FINALS

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., July 17—Youth and stamina arrayed themselves against age and experience today in the 36-hole finals for Ohio's 42nd Amateur Golf Championship at Miami Valley.

On one side was 27-year-old Harold Paddock of Cleveland, former Air Force lieutenant in the Pacific, who is making his first serious bid for this title.

Against him is Maurice J. McCarthy, Jr., of Cincinnati, 41-year-old veteran of the golfing crusades, making his sixth appearance in the title match. Three times he has won the diadem.

McCarthy, who dethroned defending champion Bob Servis in a second round match, reached the finals by winning yesterday over John Zoller of Columbus, one up in the quarter finals, and 2 and 1 over Mansfield's Al Hager in the semi-finals.

Paddock was an easy winner, 3 and 4, over Paul Schurtz of Columbus in the quarter-finals, and came back with a surprising 2 and 1 victory over Allan Whaling, former Army captain from Cincinnati, in the semi-finals.

UNIVERSAL COOLER WINS 9TH GAME

Universal Cooler last night won a victory over Commercial Steel in one of two make-up games played, defeating the Steelers, 6-3, for their ninth win without a setback. Huber Manufacturing took an easy win over Fairfield 7-1 to secure their second place spot with a record of five triumphs and three reverses. Both games were in the No. 1 Industrial league. Although Frank of Commercial allowed only seven hits, five errors in fielding proved costly. Bigford got two for three at the plate for Corder and Frank and Scott two for three for Commercial.

Huber got to Lumberson for 10 hits with Edgington registering three for four. Huber's six runs in the big fifth inning came on four hits, two walks and an error.

Results of a drawing for a playoff in the Church loop last night to determine the winner in the first round of play, were St Mary No. 1, Epworth M. E. and Forest Lawn are all tied with records of 6-1, found Epworth drawing the bye. St Mary and Forest Lawn will play the initial game at a later date.

Meeting Set To Form Boys' Baseball Loop

A meeting for the purpose of forming a city baseball league for youngsters between the ages of 14 and 16 will be held at the American Legion Dugout at 1:30 p. m. Monday, Newt Cunningham, director of the league announced today. All boys interested in playing in the circuit should attend that meeting. Teams will be made up then and a schedule of games to cover a six weeks period will be formulated.

Bob Shuford, former rightfielder for the Marion Cubs, will assist Mr. Cunningham, and he hopes to run a regular training school for the boys. The league will be, in fact, a farm system for the American Legion Junior baseball team.

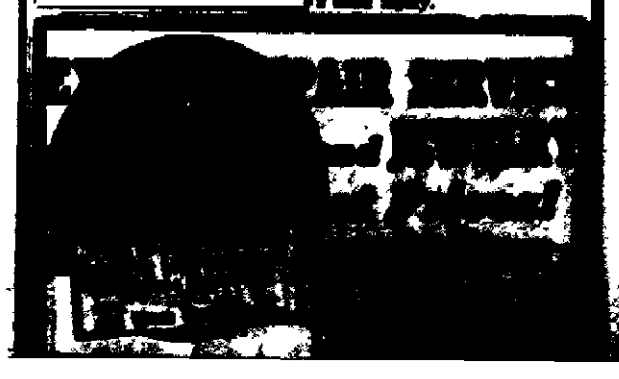
PONTIAC, Mich.—Mrs. Ethel Hawthorne, 42, was injured by an automobile while she slept in her upstairs bedroom. The car, out of control, crashed into the side of her home. The impact threw her to the floor and caused a skull injury.



AIR SERVICE

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

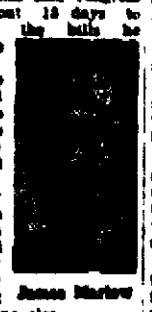
WASHINGTON—PRESIDENT TRUMAN is trying to put the Republicans on the defensive by calling a special session of congress.

But—

They can put him and his Democrats on the defensive right at the start by calling up an anti-lynching or anti-poll tax bill.

If they do, you can be sure the southern Democrats will start a filibuster—marathon talk—to prevent any action on the bill.

Mr. Truman has said congress needs only about 12 days to finish up all the bills he thinks should be passed.



James Marlow

Those include bills to control prices, help housing, give federal aid to education, and so on.

But a filibuster by southern Democrats on an anti-lynching bill could do on for 15 days all by itself blocking action on anything else.

And that would put Mr. Truman's own Democrats in the position of blocking the work the special session of congress was called to do.

In the civil rights program he asked congress to pass last February, Mr. Truman included an anti-lynching and anti-poll tax law.

The Republican-controlled congress passed neither one. But in the 1948 election campaign platform hammered together at their convention in Philadelphia in June, the Republicans went on record as

(1) Promising "prompt" action on an anti-lynching bill next year, if elected in November, and (2) favoring an end to the poll tax.

So, in calling the special session of congress for July 26, Mr. Truman in effect is saying:

"I RECOMMEND AN anti-lynching and anti-poll tax law. Now you say you're for them. All right, I'm giving you a chance to prove it."

But—and this is important in this story—although the Republicans didn't pass either one of those two laws, this did happen.

Senate committees—dominated by Republicans — spent months considering anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills. They finally okayed both and sent them over to the full senate for action, meaning a vote.

But the Republican-controlled senate quit in June, without getting around to a vote on those bills.

Those bills, all ready for action are still waiting around in the senate. The Republicans can call them up immediately, if they wish, as soon as the special session starts.

They could argue that putting together a bill on price controls, for instance, would take time, while anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills are waiting and ready.

IN THE SENATE there's no limit on the length of time a man can talk. If he wants to talk indefinitely—filibuster — to delay action on a bill, he can.

(In the house there is a limit on debate. There can't be a filibuster there. So if a bill ever got through the senate, no filibuster could block it in the house.)

There's only one way in which a filibuster can be prevented. That's when two-thirds (64) of the 96 senators vote for "cloture", which means a limit on debate. That's rarely done.

In the senate there are 51 Republicans, 45 Democrats.

Only 20 of the 45 Democrats are southerners. So there'd be enough non-southern Democrats, plus the 51 Republicans, to stop a filibuster.

If those northern Democrats didn't vote for cloture against a filibuster, they'd put their party leader, Mr. Truman, in an embarrassing position. They would be helping to block bills he asked for.

Here's the other side of the penny.

It's not certain all 51 Republicans would vote for cloture. There is a tradition in the senate against invoking cloture, on the theory that a man should be free to speak as long as he wishes.

Game cocks have been known to sit and hatch chicks.

PREVIEWS OF COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATERS

ESTHER WILLIAMS AND PETER LAWFORD (above), are the sweethearts in M-G-M's film, "On An Island With You," a tropical technicolor musical, which opens Sunday at the Palace theater and will continue through Tuesday.

Tropical Musical On Palace Screen

"On An Island With You," a new tropical technicolor musical with a six-star cast including Esther Williams, Peter Lawford, Ricardo Montalban, Jimmy Durante, Cyd Charisse and Xavier Cugat and his orchestra, opens Sunday at the Palace theater and is billed to continue through Tuesday.

The story, laid in Hawaiian locales, has Esther Williams playing the role of a movie star on location. Believing herself to be in love with her handsome leading man, Montalban, she spurns the advances of her film's technical adviser, played by Peter Lawford But Lawford proves he is not easily rejected when he kidnaps Esther by plane and holds her prisoner overnight on a nearby island. Jimmy Durante plays the role of the movie company's harrassed assistant director

Wednesday and Thursday a double feature, "Night Song" and "Big Town Scandal", will be shown. The former stars Dana Andrews, Merle Oberon and Ethel Barrymore with Hoagy Carmichael.

"Night Song" is a romantic drama dealing with a blind hero's inward conflict over choosing between a devoted pupil, supposedly sightless like himself, and a wealthy patroness who sponsors his musical career. Merle Oberon is cast as Dana Andrew's dual love interest. Highlighting the film is the presentation of Leith Stevens' "Concerto in C Minor" by the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra, Arthur Rubinstein at the piano and conducted by Eugene Ormandy, the two noted musicians playing themselves.

A romantic comedy, "The 'Sainted' Sisters" starring Veronica Lake, Joan Caulfield and Barry Fitzgerald, and a thrilling adventure in Cinecolor of a boy and his dog, entitled "Shaggy," will be shown Friday and Saturday in a double bill.

"The 'Sainted' Sisters" tells the hilarious story of Lety and Jane Stanton, who are heading for the Canadian border with $20,000 they swindled out of a rich New Yorker.

Jack Carson Stars In Picture at Ohio

"Romance on the High Seas," Warner Bros. new technicolor musical production starring Jack Carson, Janis Paige, Don DeFore and the new singing sensation, Doris Day, is now playing through Thursday at the Ohio theater.

A marital mix-up, plus mistaken identity told against the lush background of a South American cruise is the theme of the film. Jack Carson is cast as a private detective aboard ship, bound for South America, who has been hired to keep tab on a young socialite wife, suspected by her husband of carrying on a flirtation. Doris Day poses as this fascinating passenger with an unlimited bankroll at her disposal

The famed pianist-comedian Oscar Levant, S Z. Sakall and Fortunio Bonanova are featured in the large supporting cast.

Starring Friday for seven days will be the exciting and thrilling film, "The Street With No Name," the screen's first revelation of the FBI's battle against the new kind of gangster and gang terrorism that has sprung up in the wake of World War II. It stars Richard Widmark, Mark Stevens, Lloyd Nolan and Barbara Lawrence

"The Street with No Name" is the amazing and true story of the FBI's post-war battle against the threat of a new empire of crime in the making Based on actual case histories from the secret files of the FBI, the picture unfolds a story that could happen in any city where, with the breakdown of law and order, the FBI steps in

Richard Widmark portrays Alex Stiles, the super-thug gang leader, and Mark Stevens is cast in the role of Eugene Cordell, the FBI agent who risks his life in a dangerous attempt to secure evidence against the gangsters by joining their ranks. Lloyd Nolan plays the role of the FBI district inspector, while Barbara Lawrence is seen as the killer's wife

JACK CARSON and the new singing sensation, Doris Day, above, are starred with Janis Paige and Don DeFore in the all-star technicolor musical, "Romance on the High Seas," which is now playing through Thursday at the Ohio theater.

Nazi Leaders Pictured In Movie at Marion

"Will It Happen Again" a vital movie document that to date is the most complete picture account of the rise and fall of Adolph Hitler his infamous cohorts and his mistress, Eva Braun, will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Marion theater Presented by the Navy club of the United States of America, the picture was made by American Film Producers from film captured from the Nazis

Shown in all their infamous glory in the film are Hitler, Eva Braun, Hermann Goering, Paul Joseph Goebbels, Julius Streicher, Heinrich Himmler and Benito Mussolini, all playing themselves. Narration is by George Bryan and Philip Stahl

Pictured in the production are scenes of Germany shortly after the first World War and the gradual conquering of that nation by Hitler and his evil lieutenants.

Billed as the double feature for Wednesday and Thursday is "High Wall" and "For You I Die." The former stars Robert Taylor, Audrey Totter and Herbert Marshall and heading the cast in the latter are Cathy Downs and Paul Langton.

"High Wall," a suspense drama, unfolds the strange story of a man who, as a victim of amnesia, believes he has strangled his unfaithful wife but intends to outwit the law on a plea of temporary insanity "For You I Die" is a realistic drama about the life of an escaped convict.

Showing Friday and Saturday will be "Lost Canyon" starring Hopalong Cassidy and "Take My Life" with Greta Gynt and Hugh Williams

Robert Mitchum On Joy Theater Bill

"Betrayed" starring Robert Mitchum, Kim Hunter and Dean Jagger will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Joy theater in Oakland Heights Added attractions will include 'Riding Hannefords" and "Men of Tomorrow"

Tuesday through Thursday will be shown "Abilene Town," adapted the best-selling novel, "Trail Town," by Ernest Haycox Starred in the production are Randolph Scott and Ann Dvorak with Edgar Buchanan and Rhonda Fleming

A double feature, "Rainbow Over the Rockies" and "Bury Me Dead," has been billed for Friday and Saturday The former stars Jimmy Wakely with Lee "Lasses" White and Dennis Moore, and heading the cast in the latter are Cathy O'Donnell, June Lockhart, Hugh Beaumont, Mark Daniels and Greg McClure

Bogart and Bacall At Drive-In Theater

"The Big Sleep," a thrilling production starring Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall, with Martha Vickers and Dorothy Malone, is the attraction billed for Sunday through Tuesday at the Marion Drive-In Theater located on U S. Route 23 two miles north of Marion.

Irving Berlin's "Alexander's Ragtime Band," all-time musical hit with all its songs, is being returned to screens throughout the country and has been billed for showing here Wednesday and Thursday. Starred are Tyrone Power, Alice Faye, Don Ameche and Ethel Merman.

Friday and Saturday a romantic drama photographed in technicolor, "Song of Scheherazade," starring Yvonne De Carlo, Jean Pierre Aumont and Brian Donlevy, will be shown.

The latest news and a color cartoon are billed with each feature attraction.

"Last Roundup" On Bill at State

"The Web," starring Edmond O'Brien and Ella Raines, and "Last Roundup," with Gene Autry and Jean Heather, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State theater.

Billed as a double feature for Tuesday and Wednesday are "Merton of the Movies" and "My Brother Talks To Horses." The former stars Red Skelton and Virginia O'Brien, and heading the cast in the latter are Butch Jenkins and Peter Lawford

Linda Stirling and William Henry are starred in the production, "Invisible Informer," which will be the outstanding attraction of a double feature to be shown Thursday through Saturday Completing the billing will be "My Pal Trigger" starring Roy Rogers and his horse, Trigger

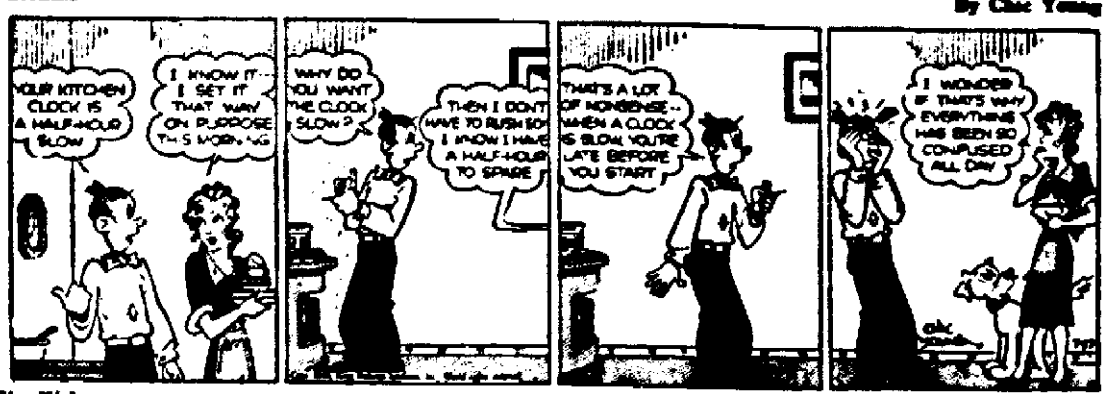
Steve Canyon — By Milton Caniff

THAT BLOW WILL REWARD YOU NOT TO ASK FOR YOUR VANISHED CONCEPTION OF JUSTICE!
I'M HALF ASLEEP, BUT I'D NEVER DREAM OF HOPING FOR THAT!
NOW, CANYON, CAPTAIN AKOOLA WILL POINT OUT THINGS OF INTEREST!
WHAT HAVE YOU TO TOP THE SOLAR SYSTEM JUST FLAMED THROUGH?
I THINK YOU WILL FIND THIS A DIFFERENT KIND OF NAVIGATIONAL PROBLEM!
IT'S DIFFERENT ALREADY—AND IT'S JUST COME TO THE SIDE FIRST—NOT THE S-S-A!

Blondie — By Chic Young



YOUR KITCHEN CLOCK IS A HALF-HOUR SLOW
I KNOW IT— I SET IT THAT WAY ON PURPOSE THIS MORNING
WHY DO YOU WANT THE CLOCK SLOW?
THEN I DON'T HAVE TO RUSH SO! I KNOW I HAVE A HALF-HOUR TO SPARE
THAT'S A LOT OF NONSENSE— WHEN A CLOCK IS SLOW, YOU'RE LATE BEFORE YOU START
I WONDER IF THAT'S WHY EVERYTHING HAS BEEN SO CONFUSED ALL DAY

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

JAMES CAGNEY, born July 17, 1904, bluffed his way to a job as chorus boy in New York. Then the actor with an Irish Norwegian ancestry scored with a Jewish-accent vaudeville skit. He made his first hit in a play with Joan Blondell. After their second hit together in "Penny Arcade," they both went to Hollywood for the film version. He did many gangster pictures and won fame as the man who "socked gals"—on the screen, that is.

There's More Than One Way To Bag a Coyote

By The United Press

BISON, S. D.—You don't need a gun to get a coyote. Just run him down and then lasso the critter. That's the report of Gail Coe and Elmer Bekken.

While flying in Coe's light plane, they spotted a coyote. They had no gun.

Flying low, they herded the coyote onto a plowed field. Attempts to hit the animal with the tail wheel were partially successful.

When the tired coyote took refuge in a fence corner under some weeds, they landed the plane nearby. Then they lassoed the coyote with the plane's tie-down rope and killed it with a fence post.

Some oil researchers believe that natural gas can be converted into gasoline at prices comparable with that produced from petroleum.
